BIG FAIR AT GOLDEN COVE PARK ATTRACTS MANY VISITORS

Lowell Driving Club's Second Annual Fair Has Auspicious Opening—Great Interest Shown in Various Exhibits—Horse Racing Features Afternoon Program

Lowell Driving Club and Agricultural Society's second annual fair, which opened this morning under the best of auspices, with weather conditions ideal, more exhibits from Middlesex county farms and gardens and home kitchens than before, and a new array of entertainment programs attractive in the extreme.

Greater community interest is being shown this year in the poultry, vegetable, fruit and floral departments. Hundreds of special exhibits in many varieties of farm and home garden products were brought to the Golden Cove show grounds this morning and arranged attractively in the exhibition tents. There are individual canvas enclosures for each separate class of entries in the contests for prizes.

Officials of the 1924 fair were on

WILL RESUME HIS HEARINGS

U. S. Commissioner Walsh
To Reopen Court Tomorrow
After Vacation

Ferncroft Inn and Sunnyside
Tea Room Liquor Cases
Listed for Trial

United States Commissioner Richard
Walsh, who returned from his vacation today, will resume his court duties tomorrow after a summer vacation period of about six weeks.

Cases listed for trial also will necessitate sessions on four days next week and four the following week.

Marked for hearing tomorrow forenoon are two cases, including complaints of illegal possession and sale against Ferncroft Inn at Middleton and the Sunnyside tea room at Top-field. William MacLaughlin, a clerk at Ferncroft, is named as a defendant in that case, and Katrina Winchester, alleged owner of the Sunnyside tea room, also will appear.

Another important case to be heard is in relation to the confiscation by federal enforcement agents of a large distilling plant in Bedford woods and the arrest of Benny Pickler of Cambridge, operator-in-charge. This seizure was made without a search warrant, but Commissioner Walsh said today there was nothing to prevent such action on the part of the agents inasmuch as the plant was not housed in a dwelling.

MR. FULLER THANKS LOWELL VOTERS THROUGH THE SUN

Appreciation of the vote given him by Lowell citizens at the state primary on Tuesday is voiced in the following letter to the editor of The Sun from Alvan T. Fuller, republican gubernatorial nominee:

September 10, 1924.

The Editor,
Lowell Sun,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: Would you permit me, through the courtesy of The Lowell Sun, to thank the people of Lowell for their cordial support on Tuesday.

I shall do my utmost to justify their confidence. I am very grateful.

Very truly yours,
ALVAN T. FULLER.

FLYING STUNTS OVER THE CITY

Two Army Aviators Will Be Seen in Sensational Aerial Exhibition

Formation of Street Parade Announced — Sixty-Eight
Units in Line

Lowell citizens' committee handling tomorrow's program for the city's observance of "National Defense Day," announced this morning an added feature of striking interest in a spectacular way that will enhance Lowell's offering in preparation for the eventuality of war.

Two army airplanes, flying from First army corps headquarters' base in East Boston, will arrive over the city of Lowell tomorrow about 12 o'clock noon. They will be driven by Lieut. Robert Brown, chairman of the world fliers' direction committee, and Lieut. R. C. Moffatt, who has broken many records in airship tests while in the service of Uncle Sam.

Major Dana Palmer, of the citizens' committee, inviting the army aviators to perform their stunts over the city.

STREET CLEANING EXPERT ADVISES TRANSFER OF SPARROW MEN

Cleaners Now Engaged in Paved Streets Should Be Transferred to Unpaved Thoroughfares—Many Recommendations Submitted by H. S. R. McCurdy

Reorganization of the street cleaning department of the city and a re-assignment of sparrow men is recommended by H. S. R. McCurdy, street cleaning expert who was hired by the city of Lowell to make a survey of the local situation, in his report to the committee, a copy of which has been delivered to the board of public service.

Mr. McCurdy says that sparrow men now engaged in cleaning paved streets should be transferred to the main unpaved streets and the paved streets cleaned by mechanical sweepers.

The departments in charge of street cleaning and refuse disposal, he continues, should each have at its head a man responsible for results, reporting directly to the superintendent of streets. The duties of the men, he says, should be so defined that there

ARMED OFFICERS GUARD SLAYERS, AS NEW THREATS ARE MADE

Shootings and Dynamitings Threatened Because of Life
Sentence Rather Than Hanging Decision in Leopold-
Loeb Case—Prisoners Still in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—After a night in which a new threat to blow up the county jail brought Sheriff Peter M.
Hoffman speeding into Chicago at midnight, Richard Loeb and Nathan F.
Leopold, Jr., under sentences of life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Frank, 14 years old, today waited their removal to Joliet penitentiary.
The 19-year-old youths, who confessed they killed "to get a thrill," amused themselves by playing cards pending the start for Joliet, which it appeared would not be before 2 or 3 p. m.

It was about 11:30 p. m. when he received the anonymous telephone call telling him that the jail was to be blown up.

"I jumped into my car and came 40 miles as fast as I could, arriving about midnight, just to make sure that nothing had happened," he said. "After a thorough inspection" everything appeared all right and I returned home."

The sheriff said he expected to start for Joliet between 2 and 3 p. m. with three automobiles in the official party, all guarded by heavily armed deputies. The advance car, said, would be filled with officers armed with shotguns loaded with buckshot. In the second car Loeb and Leopold would ride with four armed guards. Another contingent of guards with buckshotcharged guns would bring up the rear.

Steadfast of Manual Labor

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Liberty forfeited for the remainder of their lives, Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., waited in the Cook county jail today for their removal to Joliet penitentiary.

Saved from death on the gallows by only their immature years, the kidnapers-murderers of 14-year-old, Robert Frank, will be rushed to the Joliet state prison immediately upon receipt by the sheriff of the documents necessary for their proper delivery at the penal institution.

discipline their heretofore carefree and luxurious 19 years, the youthful intellectuals will face an eternity of manual labor in expiation of their crime.

"Alas! Goin' to Rahn Nu Mo!"
Loeb and Leopold slept soundly all night and had to be awakened by guards at breakfast time.

"It's all over now; we just hope it doesn't rain any more," was all they had to say in response to queries by crime.

FIERCE BATTLES IN VICINITY OF IHING, 90 MILES FROM SHANGHAI

Defending Forces of the Chekiang Governor Capture
Three Towns—Invading Troops Are Said To Be
Rushing Up Reinforcements

K.K.K. MEANS "KEEP MONTE BLUE BEGAN FILM KOO! WITH KOOLEDGE"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Ku Klux Klan campaign headquarters are attempting to draw out President Coolidge on the subject of the Klan. The Klan issued here yesterday, J. J. Mallon, a lawyer, of Portland, Me., was quoted as saying, "In the Maine campaign the initials K. K. K. had a double meaning. They signified both Ku Klux Klan and 'Keep Kool with Koolledge'."

The efforts of the republicans to make the result appear a victory for their policies and an augury of success for the national election, is laughable to anyone who knows anything about the situation in my state. The nomination and election of Governor Brewster was dictated by the hooded night shirt order.

"We of the La Follette-Wheeler progressive movement believe in facing facts. The K. K. K. today owns the state of Maine. Senator La Follette, who first announced himself an opponent of the Ku Klux Klan, has no chance whatever of carrying Maine this November."

CHARGED WITH FELONIOUS ASSAULT

Joseph F. Kent, about 65 years of age, was arraigned in district court this morning on a charge of feloniously assaulting a seven-year-old girl. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued to Sept. 20, with bonds fixed at $2000. Kent was arrested yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Martin Maher and Sgt. Peter McManmon.

FINED $100 FOR ILLEGAL KEEPING

The seizure of several bottles of alleged moonshine, brought over a store in Cheever street, brought Narcissus Demaria before the district court this morning. He was found guilty of illegally keeping liquor and was fined $100. The raid was conducted last evening by Sgt. Winn and Officers Conney, Moore and Trudel.

committee is to blame for this situation as the committee, at his request, at the May meeting, recommended that a loan order be presented to the city council covering the completion of an unfinished room in this school and a number of portable schools for use in various sections of the city. When, in July, it was learned that the finance law would not permit a loan for this purpose, the committee asked the mayor and city council to appropriate the sum of $20,000 for the work. The appropriation was not granted and as a result nothing was done to enlarge existing accommodations at the Sycamore street school nor to purchase portable new school houses.

Supt. Molloy's statement, which describes the situation clearly, is as follows:

"The superintendent of schools feels that he owes it to himself and to the members of the school committee who have adopted his recommendations to set forth clearly the true state of things as to any temporary lack of accommodations in any part of the city. The records of the school committee and the dates mentioned in what follows will show clearly what the course of the superintendent of schools has been."

"At a meeting of the school committee on May 5, 1924, the superintendent recommended that the remaining part of the upper floor of the Sycamore street school be finished for school purposes and that seven portable school rooms be provided for the opening of school in September, suggesting that these school accommodations can be provided for by a loan; the recommendation was adopted."

"At a meeting on June 27, 1924, the superintendent again brought up the matter and according to the records the committee voted that the proper steps be taken to have an order presented to borrow the sum of $20,000 for seven portable schools and the finishing of a room in the Sycamore street school."

"At a meeting on July 18, 1924, the superintendent presented a communication from the mayor to the effect that the finance law will not permit borrowing $20,000 for work on the Sycamore street school and seven portable schools."

"The committee adopted the recommendation of the superintendent that the mayor ask the city council to appropriate $20,000 for finishing the unfinished part of the Sycamore street school and for procuring seven portable schools."

"At this time should be called to the fact that from May 5, 1924, to Sept. 5, 1924, is a period of a little more than four months."

"At the time the buildings department office today, it is reported that instructions have been received from the school department to finish the uncompleted room in the Sycamore street school."

"When this school building was built twenty or more years ago, the first floor was completed for school purposes but the second floor was left in an unfinished condition. Last year it was found necessary to finish one of the rooms on the second floor. Work on the remaining room will be begun in the near future."

MONTE BLUE BEGAN FILM CAREER AS LABORER

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
N.M.A. Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11.—Into most professions men and women are fitted by early bent or definite training. Into the motion picture profession a score of its greatest luminaries have blundered or been chucked by ludicrous quirk of circumstance. Another sear or two, eminent now, were misfits elsewhere—wanderers, grubbers, poets, tramps, troubadours.

The American, impregnated with the democratic faith that the nobility of today may become the senility of tomorrow, relishes their stories.

This is Monte Blue's. Railroad fireman, lumberjack, coal miner, cowboy, circus clown and soap-box orator—these and many more ephemeral pursuits painted the background for his present notable screen station.

Casual retrospect might not find in these earlier callings a lever for his rise as an actor entrusted, as at this time he is, with such exacting role as "Deburau," first of the Pierrots, idol of the French theatre, and lover of Camille.

But the cue lies in his having been clown and laborer—the buffoon who expressed himself in pantomime, and the speaker who could hold crowds by magnetic assualt.

Monte Blue's father is one-fourth Cherokee Indian. From him he got a roving strain. After finishing school with intention of becoming a mechanical engineer, he fired a locomotive in New York state until a wreck sent him to the hospital.

He clowned for a season with Ringling's.

A cave-in which killed several fellows in an adjoining slope, tipped his succeeding employment as a coal miner in Pennsylvania. Heading west, he became a cowboy on the Flathead Indian reservation of Montana. His next job was lumberjacking in the Washington forests, but the call of the ranch prevailed and he went to Wyoming. His wanderlust sailed for a time, he took a job as stock clerk at Boston Harbor, Mich., where he became superintendent in three years.

Coming to Los Angeles he got a job as motion picture lot laborer after five weeks' hand-to-mouth existence—the lowest step in his ladder of ambition, as he then thought. He did holes for telephone poles at the old Fine Arts studio, over which D. W. Griffith presided.

Monte was addressing his fellow-workers on the rights of labor, assailing from a soap box on the lot, when Griffith happened by. Instead of firing him, as Blue expected, the producer said, "Keep it up, young fellow. I like to listen to you."

Griffith had spotted the actor, the spellbinder, the dramatist. He mounted Blue on a box for a picture. It went so well that a part was written into a photoplay especially for the posthole digger. He did that satisfactorily and received a guarantee of $10, per week with the company. The part was that Blue was to continue as laborer, but was to get an additional $5 check whenever he worked as an "extra."

Directors discovered that he could do stunts, particularly on a horse. For a long time he was kept busy doubling for lone agile and nervy stars. Real progress began when, with Douglas Fairbanks' help, he got an engagement as lead with Mary Pickford. Then a two-year contract with Famous Players-Lasky solved the bread-and-butter problem, and Blue began forging ahead.

During the last two years he has been a star with Warner Brothers, and has become one of the screen's most solidly popular men. And now he finds that background of various experiences, which seemed then to lead nowhere definitely, an invaluable asset for characterization and emotional exploitation.

Monte Blue is a man who found himself, after many gropings.

WOMAN EXPECTS TO LIVE TO BE 250 YEARS OLD

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Men and women can live to be 250 years old! There is nothing incongruous in a woman of 76 falling in love with a man of 25.

These are just two of the statements made by a woman new to America, claiming to be 60 years old, who declares she is going to demonstrate to the world that she will live to be 250.

Styled as Dr. Alice Jewel, Ph. D., president of the Alice Jewel International Society of Applied Psychology, she arrived in Boston from Europe with a theory more optimistic than that of M. C. Stenach, or "Black Oxen" of Gertrude Atherton. The answer, she says, is rejuvenation.

But more astounding than the theories advanced by this exponent of eternal youth is Dr. Jewel herself. A reporter found a woman who looked not a day more than 30 under the soft light of the Parker house library, who introduced herself as the living example of painless rejuvenation.

With raven, brown, bobbed hair, smartly groomed in the last word in Paris fashions, this woman calmly said that she had seen three score years, and regretted she didn't have her birth certificate along to prove the fact.

To a number of questions put to her as to how she did it, she answered, "No gland transplantation, no skin operations, nothing surgical. My method of rejuvenation I learned from the Bible. It comes from within, and that's why I have got to live 250 years to complete my work."

"Old age is nothing but a curable disease," she said. "It is our minds which govern our life and bring about our death. Deep down in our subconscious minds is buried the thought that we must die, and what I do is to teach people to free themselves from that centuries old thought. We are just beginning to realize that there is such a thing as mind control, but as yet we know as little about it as we do of the planet Mars."

"We are surprised when we hear of a woman of 70 falling in love with a young man, but there is no reason why such a woman, if she becomes properly rejuvenated, should not marry him and bear children. It is a sin control. Last year, she visited a few American cities, but was not ready they would but live as young men, the flame and effervescence of youth will always be with them."

She then averred that she is not a follower of Coue or any of the other mental suggestionists who have preceded her here, saying that as a student of psychology for many years at the University of Paris, she gradually evolved her present system of mind control. Last year, she visited a few American cities, but was not ready

CLASH IN GALWAY TOWN

Soldiers Called Following Clash Between Guard and Kilkerrin Residents

BELFAST, Sept. 11.—A violent clash between the civil guard and the population of Kilkerrin, County Galway, resulting from the attempt of the guard to quiet a riot, was reported today from the Galway town which is now in the hands of soldiers who are patrolling the place and maintaining order.

The trouble started when a mob resisted the civil guard and chased the policemen into their barracks. The crowd forced the door of the barracks with a battering ram, the police men escaped by a rear door and the mob destroyed the building being damaged only after the arrival of soldiers.

$100,000,000 CREDIT TO FRANCE RENEWED

PARIS, Sept. 11. (By the Associated Press).—The $100,000,000 credit extended by J. P. Morgan & Co. to the Bank of France six months ago has been renewed for another six months upon conditions similar to the preceding credit.

The renewal came after negotiations between Thomas W. Lamont, representing the American banking firm, and Georges Rubineau, governor of the Bank of France. According to the bank the renewal was obtained simply as a precaution as there is no need for it.

The credit was originally extended to assist in the fight against the depreciation of the franc.

Cells Await Prisoners

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press) Two empty cells in a penitentiary here today awaited the arrival from Chicago of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, expected during the day to begin life sentences for the slaying of Robert Franks.

The cells the boys will occupy their first day are those to which all new prisoners are taken and are termed "solitary cells," or detention quarters for incoming prisoners.

Tomorrow they will be assigned regular cells and work, will visit prison physician and psychiatrist for examination, and will be given a lecture on prison rules.

The warden said that the youths would not be confined in the same cell or even in the same section of the prison. They may see one another while marching or in mess halls, but probably will not have a chance to talk for years. Cell mates will not be awarded to the slayers at once. They will be kept alone for a time.

The youths will be assigned to manual labor at the beginning despite their university educations. Warden Whitman indicated.

Today, Rev. Peter Linehan read the committal prayers at the grave. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker William A. Mack.

OUR FLAG UNFURLED
By Elia A. Reilly
The deeds they have wrought for our country's sake
Are as a flag unfurled to me;
I count each noble life at stake,
As the stars and stripes of "Liberty."

Their blood they would give, that the "Red" might live,
And know no bounds on land or sea—
That men might learn how to forgive,
And crown the name of "Victory."

Their conquest of soul in the cause of right,
That age of "Purity" purged with pain,
Held a vigil light o'er the stripes of "White."
That it ever be kept without a stain.

Their hopes, fond and true, kept bright the "Blue,"
As it cradled the stars of our loving dead;
Now the hopes of a nation are in its hue,
And the stars brighter shine, for each tear that is shed.

The cord of "Justice" in the hands of him,
Who never lets go "till our flag swung high—
Up to the top then all else grew dim,
Tis for this men suffer, bleed, and die.

The glorious height of our staff of "Right,"
From whence our flag shall be unfurled;
Shall ever stand as a guide-post bright,
And speak of "Peace" to a listening world.

OUR FLAG UNFURLED
By Elia A. Reilly
The deeds they have wrought for our country's sake
Are as a flag unfurled to me;
I count each noble life at stake,
As the stars and stripes of "Liberty."

Their blood they would give, that the "Red" might live,
And know no bounds on land or sea—
That men might learn how to forgive,
And crown the name of "Victory."

Their conquest of soul in the cause of right,
That age of "Purity" purged with pain,
Held a vigil light o'er the stripes of "White."
That it ever be kept without a stain.

Their hopes, fond and true, kept bright the "Blue,"
As it cradled the stars of our loving dead;
Now the hopes of a nation are in its hue,
And the stars brighter shine, for each tear that is shed.

The cord of "Justice" in the hands of him,
Who never lets go "till our flag swung high—
Up to the top then all else grew dim,
Tis for this men suffer, bleed, and die.

The glorious height of our staff of "Right,"
From whence our flag shall be unfurled;
Shall ever stand as a guide-post bright,

JOHN W. DAVIS SPEAKS TWO AT DENVER TONIGHT

ESTES PARK, Colo., Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press).—Ready after three days' rest in the Rockies for the strenuous days of campaigning that are ahead, John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, had before him early today a 60-mile automobile drive through mountain passes and plains to Denver.

There tonight he will deliver an address on reclamation, irrigation and conservation. His advisers say that in connection with these subjects, he will renew his assault upon the republican administration, both on its record and on the basis of proposals its spokesmen have put forward for the future.

Immediately upon his arrival at Denver, the democratic standard-bearer will be a guest at a luncheon and speak there briefly. He plans to remain in Denver over night, leaving tomorrow afternoon for Cheyenne, Wyo., where he has an engagement to speak tomorrow night.

JUDGE REFUSES TO ISSUE WARRANT FOR FIRPO

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 11.—Federal Judge Runyon today refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of Luis Angel Firpo, who is to meet Harry Willis tonight in a 12-round heavy-weight fight at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City.

Application for the warrant was made yesterday by Herbert Clark Gilson, counsel for a Jersey City religious and civic society, who charged Firpo with violating the Mann act by transporting a woman from Atlantic City to New York shortly before his championship battle with Jack Dempsey a year ago.

ARRANGE FOR FALL AND WINTER ACTIVITIES

After a more or less quiet summer during which time outings and picnics were enjoyed by the members of the various clubs affiliated with the Inter-national Institute, activities for the fall-winter season have been resumed under the direction of the club workers, Miss Fern Graden director.

An interesting season is planned by the various clubs which are meeting this week to arrange plans for the official opening next week.

The Pollyanna club, composed of junior girls, met today to discuss plans for the coming season. This evening at 6 o'clock the Wide Awake Girls, senior division, will meet, while at 7 o'clock the White Eagle club, composed of Polish girls, will meet to arrange their program. The Lucy Laron club, junior girls, will gather tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock under the direction of Miss Helen Rule, volunteer worker. The Martha Washington club met yesterday and the members have an extensive program arranged for the coming season.

Next week will be devoted to registration and election of officers which will begin on Monday morning and continue through the week. Each club will elect its officers, and indications point to much competition in official circles, especially among the junior girls.

Among the crafts which will be taught at the Institute this season are embroidery, cooking, sewing and making of jig-saw toys and decorative articles. The Educational club of the Institute met today to finish up their work which was continued at home during the summer and it was planned to take up millinery this season, having accomplished much in basketry taught last season.

Gymnasium classes are also being planned by the enthusiastic workers at the Institute and junior gym classes to be held in the afternoon for the grade school girls and senior classes in the evening for the senior girls are being arranged. Basketball will also have its place on the program for the senior girls.

These classes will be held in the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium in John street. Entertainments are to be many this season and the club members are most enthusiastic over the idea, still having fresh in their memory the great success scored last May when they presented "Midsummer Night" in Colonial hall.

PANELS OF VELVET

Chenille crepe, velvet and marabou make this gown what it is. The velvet panels are the unique features and contribute most to the unusual effect. These combinations of materials are seen very generally in the fall collections and they are a boon to the home dressmaker since they offer excellent opportunities for making over frocks. This outfit is carried out in brilliant red.

MR. SIR HENRY

Mr. Henry Thomson, president of the Canadian National railways, feels a lot better now, thank you! He has just finished a little swim in the famous salt water in Lake Michigan's Mackinac Island. Sir Henry, by the way, is an American by birth and a graduate of the University of Toronto.

DEFENSE DAY EXERCISES IN THE SCHOOLS

Supt. Hugh J. Molloy has prepared a statement, to be read in Lowell schools at 10:30 tomorrow morning, explaining in detail the program calling for the participation of Lowell school children in the city's demonstration in observance of "National Defense Day."

The superintendent says: "On Friday, Sept. 12, will be observed throughout the United States the First National Defense day, a day which will bring together in an expression of loyalty to our country and its institutions, several millions of men."

"National Defense day has two purposes. First, the observance of the day constitutes a test of the new system of defense which has been planned for this country in case of any emergency, such as that of 1917. The military units of defense, built up from the lessons learned in the World war, include the Regular Army, the National Guard in the various cities and states and above all else, the Reserve Corps which is the nucleus of this new system of national defense."

"Every one is more or less familiar with the Regular Army and the National Guard, but the third element, the Reserve Corps, is not so well understood. In brief, by the Defense act of 1920, the United States is divided into districts and a stated number of military companies has been allotted to each district. These companies are in any national emergency to be recruited from the citizens in the communities of the various districts. Ordinarily these units are maintained in skeleton form because, of course, there is no need of their being kept in peace time at full strength. On Defense day, however, it is planned to fill up these units for two or three hours by voluntary enlistments, so as to test out at a certain hour all over the country, how this system would work if it were to be carried out in an hour of necessity."

"In other words, throughout the United States several millions of citizens will be gathered together voluntarily, helping out the government in its test of this great Defense act."

"This general mobilization suggests the second object of Defense day, because of the banding together of citizens of all ages, creeds and races, an opportunity is afforded for a great demonstration of loyalty to our country and laws."

"Each one of the several thousand citizens in Lowell who take part in this demonstration joins with millions of others throughout the country, in explicitly declaring 'I love my country and will uphold it always, and will obey its laws and cherish its institutions.'"

ST. PETER'S CADETS WILL JOIN PARADE

St. Peter's Cadets will participate in the "National Defense day" parade, tomorrow evening. The Cadets will meet at the school at 4 p. m. in preparation for the march to North common, where the street parade is to be formed. Every member of the Cadets is expected to be present. The drum corps will also report.

Along with all the feathered creatures penguins walk about upright on land, as man does.

50 PER CENT VOTE AT STATE PRIMARY

Fifty per cent of the registered voters in this city voted at the state primaries Tuesday, according to figures compiled by the election commission. The total registration of the city is 23,608, and the number voting Tuesday was 11,494. Of the number voting, 7350 were democrats and 3128 were republicans.

O'NEIL IS CHAIRMAN OF RENT COMMISSION

The rent commission, named by the mayor over a month ago at the request of the city council, organized yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room and named Attorney Cornelius J. O'Neill as its chairman. John J. Dwyer, chairman of the board of assessors, was named temporary secretary.

Present at the meeting were the following members of the commission: Attorney Cornelius J. O'Neill, John J. Dwyer, Supt. John Moynahan of the lands and buildings department, City Engineer Stephen Kearney, William Kiernan and Mrs. Hilda Bennett. The seventh member, Parker Murphy, of the trades and labor council, was out of town.

After calling the meeting to order at 4:45 o'clock, the mayor suggested the election of a chairman and on motion of Mr. Dwyer, Mr. O'Neill was unanimously chosen. Mr. Kearney moved the election of Mr. Dwyer as temporary secretary, and his motion carried unanimously.

Upon taking over the chair Mr. O'Neill thanked the members of the commission for naming him as chairman and suggested that the first business before the commission was to find out from the city solicitor just what its rights and powers were, before it undertook any matter in connection with the landlord or tenant. He asked for a motion to this effect from one of the members because, he said, the commission could not operate successfully unless it knew at the outset its rights and the limits of its powers. Mr. Moynahan made the motion requested by the chair and it received the favorable vote of every member present. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 4:55 o'clock to meet at the call of the chair.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. SAMUEL MURPHY, 213 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

WEYLER LIKELY TO COME TO FRONT IN SPAIN

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Hints continue to reach Washington of the im-

GENERAL WEYLER

minence of another governmental overturning in Spain and the suggestion is made that General Valeriano Weyler, who was governor general of

Cuba just before the Spanish-American war, is likely to come to the front.

General Weyler has a reputation in Spain altogether different from the one he always has borne in this country.

He is, as a matter of fact, a very strong-handed military man. He was given the job of restoring, or trying to restore, order in Cuba and he went about it with all the energy there was in him.

America's sympathy was with the Cubans and his methods were violently resented here for that reason. If American sympathies had been on the side of Spain, however, probably there would have been no criticism.

As he told the story afterward in Spain (where I talked with him once) he was in the position of a surgeon who had an operation to perform and he saw no sense in performing it gradually. The sooner it was over the better it would be for the patient.

In Spain the general always has been known as a liberal. That's what he is politically. He favors a competent government, but the reactionaries never have used him.

In fact, they never have used him except in desperate situations—such as Cuba and as captain general of Barcelona at a time when a revolt there threatened complete disruption of the country—where his services were called in as a last resort.

Among Spaniards he is spoken well of even by the ultra-radicals whom he fought successfully during the Barcelona uprising. He has, they say, a sense of justice and is a man of his word, besides being strictly honest.

Whether, if more trouble comes, the throne will topple is uncertain. Revolution has been simmering in Spain for years. All that has stayed off has been the personal popularity of King Alfonso. Of late he has lost much of it.

Colonel de Rivera, who threw out the civilian Spanish cabinet a year ago and established a military dictatorship, though he preserved the monarchy, represented the Spanish fascists—reactionary. He lacked, however, the ability of the Italian fascist leader, Mussolini, and conditions have not improved under him.

One theory is that Alfonso himself is back of the movement in favor of Weyler, fearing a revolution in which he himself will be destroyed if the Rivera regime continues much longer.

If this guess is correct the idea simply is to eliminate de Rivera in favor of Weyler, with a view to saving the monarchy if possible. The only count against Weyler is that he is very old and probably will not live long.

REVERE LAND SOLD
BY WALTER GUYETTE

Walter E. Guyette, local real estate dealer and auctioneer, yesterday sold at auction the George W. Fittold estate at the entrance to the Revere beach boulevard. There were six lots in the sale and they were purchased by Charles Rudinsky and Louis Rudinsky of Boston for approximately $25,000.

The purchasers are the proprietors of the Central Automobile Tire company, with stores in Boston, Lowell and other large cities, and also of the Enterprise building, this city. They did not make public their plans for development of the tract.

CHELMSFORD GRANGE AUTUMNAL FAIR

All records were broken for attendance at a Chelmsford Grange autumnal fair, yesterday afternoon, when the members of the active fraternal society presented an exhibition of fruits, vegetables, flowers, home-cured goods and canned goods that proved a revelation because of its size and quality, as well as great variety of products "put up to keep."

Tables were used to display attractive preserves and other sparkling exhibits in the home-canning field. Many articles were offered for sale. There was a food table, a household booth and a grab table.

Features of the annual fair were exhibits by boys' and girls' farm and garden clubs, Middlesex county extension service members directing. The refreshment booth installed at the entrance to the town hall, did a thriving business. Supper included baked beans, cold meats, salads, rolls and coffee, served under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Whitcomb. A Lowell orchestra played and the evening program was also featured by entertainers from Lowell and Chelmsford. Mrs. George Burns presenting a group of songs and Miss Mildred Dean, in costume, appearing in fancy dances.

A SUSTAINING SWEET
A sustaining and pleasing sweet for ending meals or lunch is composed of a cupful each of raisins, dates, figs, prunes and shelled nuts. Put the nuts through a food chopper first, then mix with fruit and pass all through a chopper twice and press into cakes, wrapped in paraffin paper, and a delicate, wholesome sweet is made for the child.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed towards building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medical Co. Send today, N. Y., if you mention this paper.—Adv.

NUXATED IRON

WEAK NERVES

AND THIN BLOOD

RUIN HEALTH OF THOUSANDS WITHOUT THEIR EVER SUSPECTING THE REAL CAUSE OF THEIR TROUBLE—IRON STARVATION

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., all as a result of iron starvation of the blood.

There are 30,000,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. Without iron your blood also loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue, and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good; you do not get the full strength out of it and as a consequence you become greatly weakened both in body and mind.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach, because it is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and usually taken. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. Y. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

A Blessing for Old and Young Who Feel All Worn-Out

Thousands Are Finding Comfort and Relief in Just a Few Days—It Is Wonderful How Quick Nuxated Iron Does the Work

Nuxated Iron brings back pep, punch and vigor to tired worn-out nerves and muscles. It builds red blood, strong steady nerves and increases most wonderfully the power of endurance. Nuxated Iron brings refreshing sleep, good appetite and fine digestion, regular bowel movement, lots of enthusiasm and ambition. If you are not feeling just right, you owe it to yourself to give Nuxated Iron a trial. It costs you nothing if you are not benefited. Nuxated Iron is pleasant to take and you will begin to feel better in very few days. If your physician has not prescribed Nuxated Iron, for you just go to the druggist and get a bottle. Take it for just a few days and if you do not feel better and look better return the remainder to the druggist and he will give you your money back. The manufacturers know so well what Nuxated Iron will do that they compel all druggists to guarantee it and refund your money when you are not satisfied. See guarantee on package. Recommended, guaranteed and for sale by all druggists.—Adv.

SCOUTS GIVE COMRADE ROUSING RECEPTION

As the smoke belching locomotive drawing the 5:30 o'clock train from Boston yesterday afternoon slowed down and finally came to a full stop, it was greeted with the deafening, thundering cheers of more than a hundred boy scouts who had gathered to welcome home Eagle Scout Warren Vandenburg from his trip to Copenhagen, Denmark.

At the appearance of Scout Vandenburg he was pounced upon by his host of friends and borne to a waiting automobile where he was greeted by members of his family. Immediately the scouts fell into formation and the procession moved down Middlesex street to Scout Vandenburg's troop headquarters on Kirk street. There he was tendered an informal reception by his friends and associates.

Scout Vandenburg was one of the eight eagle scouts connected with the Lowell scout council who competed for the chance to accompany the American troop of boy scouts on their trip to the international boy scout jamboree held in Copenhagen. Young Vandenburg won the competition and late in July went to New York where he entered the final tests with boys from all over the United States. He was again successful and became a member of the troop of 57 boys who made the trip. After more than a month in Europe the Americans returned home on the S. S. Lancaster, which docked Monday morning in New York.

The boys were banqueted and entertained in the city of New York until Tuesday when they were discharged and scattered to all parts of the country.

The welcome of the Lowell scouts was a complete surprise to Scout Vandenburg. Plans for the welcome were in the hands of a reception committee consisting of Dr. John H. Lambert, president of the Lowell Boy Scout council; Albert Thurston, scout commissioner; Edwin J. Mellin, scout executive; Charles W. Barton, field scout executive; Reuben White, scoutmaster of Troop 10, Vandenburg's troop. It was intended to meet young Vandenburg with the high school regiment and band, but because of the fact that high school was not in session yesterday the members of the regiment could not be notified.

ing close to the curb. Then, also, the process of sweeping, even though these machines are equipped with spraying devices, is always accompanied by more or less dust, which is objectionable to pedestrians. As the machines are equipped with headlights and side spotlights, no difficulty is encountered in operating at night.

Assignment "Sparrow Men"
With the exception of half a dozen whitewashers to supplement the motor sweepers on paved streets, the 34 white wings or "sparrow men" at present operating on the streets swept by sweepers are superfluous. They should, in the opinion of Mr. McCurdy, clean up areas as recommended by the superintendent of streets last May. Not all at present employed would be necessary and those not necessary could be assigned to street and sewer gangs. In cleaning macadam streets and unpaved streets once or twice a year, it is suggested that sewer and street men be transferred temporarily to the street cleaning department.

To alleviate the dust nuisance, Mr. McCurdy suggests that light oil and calcium chloride be used rather than water, and favors chloride for level streets as the most efficient binder. It costs about twice as much as light oil, he says, but there is nothing to take the place of the chloride "on the right kind of road."

Snow Removal
Mr. McCurdy suggests the purchase of a 5-ton tractor with snow plow attachment to supplement the city's present snow removal equipment. The cost of the outfit would be $4200 for the tractor and $1050 for the plow, and the tractor could be used to advantage during the summer months on road work.

In regard to the organization of street cleaning, Mr. McCurdy reports as follows:

Importance of Organization
Finally a word as to organization. Systems will not run themselves. The best laid plans are not effective unless carried out with a conscience. The major operations affecting the cleanliness of the streets, namely, street cleaning and refuse disposal, should each have at its head a man responsible for results, reporting directly to the superintendent of streets. Call him foreman, inspector or what you will, he should be a man thoroughly into his job and should hold the job only by reason of getting results. There should be sufficient help to cover the territory in a satisfactory manner and duties so defined that there will be no opportunity for "passing the buck."

Unpaved streets with the kind of problem of cleaner streets for the city of Lowell, Mr. McCurdy desires to acknowledge his appreciation of the cheerful co-operation and assistance he has received at all times from Mr. Dennis J. Murphy, chairman, board of public service, and from Mr. Henry P. Doherty, superintendent of streets and sewers.

Fierce Battling 90 Miles From Shanghai

which point the Chekiang forces hope to start a rear attack on the Kiangsu troops now attacking Shanghai.

The movement of troops from Quinsan to the Hsiao section might be interpreted as a move indicating that the fighting has been carried to territory held by the invaders.

The Chekiang headquarters asserted that mutiny had broken out among the Kiangsu forces, but this report was unconfirmed. The Chekiang forces are not attempting further advances in the Lihoo sector, the official announcement said.

Order Countermanded
MANILA, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—The order for the Associated Press to countermand the order for the transport Chaumont to proceed to Shanghai with marines to reinforce the force already landed from American warships there.

Deny Troop Movement
PEKING, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—In view of the persistent reports of the movement of Chihli troops, the central government has issued a statement denying that troops have been moved to Shanghai or other places in the north, as alleged. It is added that since the fighting of 1922 there has been no movement of troops between Chihli and neighboring provinces.

Likewise the report of the interruption of the Peking-Mukden railroad is denied.

Nothing has occurred so far as ascertainable to change the condition of armed neutrality on the part of Manchuria.

Japan Not to Intervene
TOKIO, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—Japan has no intention of intervening in the domestic difficulties of China, Baron Kijuro Shidehara, the foreign minister, told the Associated Press today when asked to outline the Japanese government's policy regarding the present civil war in China.

The baron declined to comment further, asserting that his reply covered all the questions asked, including Japan's position in Manchuria, respecting General Chang Tso-Lin and the South Manchurian railway.

Although Japanese despatches from Mukden state that Chang Tso-Lin is marching four brigades in the direction of Jialin in north China, the best informed Tokyo official opinion is that major hostilities on the Chihli-Manchurian front, amounting to a final showdown between Chang and General Wu Pei-Fu are not likely to occur at present.

The intensity of the season, the recent floods and financial difficulties on both sides are cited to substantiate this view.

Big Force in Manchuria
SHANGHAI, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—The total forces now in Manchuria comprise three divisions, 21 mixed brigades and four cavalry brigades, according to Japanese sources.

The army personally commanded by Chang Tso-Lin, who has declared war against the Peking government and is its military supporter, Wu Pei-Fu, consists of 12 brigades of regulars, 12 brigades of irregulars and four divisions of artillery.

COOLIDGE-DAVES CARAVAN

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The Coolidge-Daves caravan, which rested in this city last night on its way west from Plymouth, N. H., to the Presidential election, was expected to leave for Coolidge, was expected to leave for the road here this morning bound for Schenectady, Amsterdam, Utica and western New York. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and others who spoke at a republican rally here last night after the caravan's arrival were to accompany the party.

hand early to handle the checking in and placing of exhibits. Members and friends of the driving club came from many miles around to display garden and farm products. The exhibits installed in the tents and the outside enclosures, including the club building erected last year, covered classes listing poultry of many fancy breeds, cattle, swine, goats, sheep, ponies. The largest tent covered the poultry booths, which were filled early in the day.

Among the largest poultry exhibitors are Clark M. Chrysler and Ernest Maille of Duxbury, and Albert J. Ford of Tyngham. There are striking displays of registered strains, Rhode Island Reds, white Leghorns, buff rocks, black Cochins, Columbian Wyandottes, Orpingtons, White Rocks, Black Minorcas, Brahmas, white and red; Anconas and barred Rocks.

The floral exhibition will be the best ever conducted in this section of the state. Will Rounds, the first street florist, has charge of the exhibit and is showing an amazing variety of the famous Rounds gladioli and dahlias. The tables are filled with the wonderful, large varieties that gladioli connoisseurs prize so well. The collection, which takes up a large part of the exhibition tent, includes the Mt. Shasta, Hort. Plat, golden dahlias, the Hardy Sunbower, "Fountain of Beauty" and the smaller Pompon dahlias, among scores of other floral selections.

Pony Circus for Children

There is a pony circus on hand for the children, with four Shetlands and also three riding goats. The pony track is across the way from the stable building and is in charge of J. W. Graves of Rellingham.

The first entrant in the goat class to arrive this morning was a big white animal, part Toggenberg strain, lively, friendly and the property of Charles E. Dane, of Evergreen street, Chelmsford.

Ample arrangements have been made to provide refreshments for fair visitors. Harvey, the caterer, has installed a large tent on the grounds not far from the race track grandstand, and is to serve meals all day, with regular dinners.

The automobile show, installed in a large tent on the other side of the field, has exhibits from many Lowell sales men, proprietors glad to be allowed to provide exhibits of the latest models and some of the 1925 offerings. Tractors are also displayed in one section of the automobile tent.

The Middlesex county extension service is in charge of the children's canning exhibits, which are on display in large varieties this year in the main tent. C. G. Tillson, agent of the farm bureau, arrived early in the day, accompanied by Miles Tenk Bishop, who will be the judge of the children's canning contest. G. B. Erickson, one of the farm bureau forces, will handle the exhibit from the boys' and girls' gardens. This will be a feature of the three days' fair, also. Mr. Tillson will judge poultry.

Horse Races This Afternoon

Chelmsford brass band gave its first concert of the show this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the first of the three-day races on the Govt half-mile track were scheduled to start. Today there were three fast classes listed—the 2:12, in which three Lowell horses were entered, Lassie Pointer and Maxwell, owned by I. E. Wotton, and Manrico, owned by Ernest Daigle.

The 2:21 class, in which eight horses entered, including Excalibur, owned by David Bruce of this city. Other horses include Trevelyan, Lady, Ananias, Dewey Volo, Cousteau Patrean, Fair Maiden, Allie Delmar and Don Marque.

The other event today was the 2:40 class. This event has four local horses entered. They are Mary V. Sembah, John Potter and Aquilla D. Out-of-town horses in this race are Minnie Forbes, Golden Sheaf, Landlight, Manana, Todd and Baronella.

The officials of the Lowell driving club handling this year's fair and exhibition are: President Oscar Dowell; secretary, Frank E. Maclean; treasurer, Thomas H. Braden; grounds supervisor, Abel Robertson; vegetable and fruit exhibit, Edwin Whitcomb of Chelmsford; canning exhibit, Marie McPherson; flowers, Will Rogers; cattle, Arthur W. Colburn; horses, Lewis A. Clark; poultry, Perley M. Kimball.

There will be two racing cards tomorrow, with an additional running race with expert jockeys up, also a parade of fancy saddle horses. Mr. Braden will act as starter of the races each day.

Special state motorcycle policemen are on duty at Golden Cove daily to assist Lowell and Chelmsford police.

They are: C. C. Callahan, William Phillips and J. P. Sullivan, and are detailed from the Lake Walden, Concord, state police department district station. The detail of policemen from the Lowell department are as follows: Patrolmen C. E. Sullivan, James P. Garrity and James P. Dowell.

The Chelmsford police department, commands the police detachment.

Dog Show Saturday

The dog show will be held on Saturday, under the supervision of William Rigby, president of Lowell Kennel club. Rigby promises to be one of the best shows ever held in Lowell. There will be $100 in special prizes. Every member of the bench show committee has offered a special prize.

The dog show will be held in Lawrence, Boston and Beverly will have canines on the driving club show's benches.

The Bostonians will have their regular weight classes. There will be four classes for puppies in all breeds under three months, three to six months, six to nine months and nine to twelve months. The regular classes for all breeds will be, novice limit, open, American breed and breed by exhibitors.

The personnel of the bench show committee is as follows: William R. Rigby, chairman; Joseph F. Folger, Harry Degan, Joseph Hughes, Arthur Miner, Ralph Armitage, John MacKenzie, Wm. JUDGE CAVERTY'S DECISION

Judge Caverty of Chicago has failed to impose the death penalty upon the murderers of the Franks boy, despite the heinous character of the crime and the antecedent crimes of kidnapping and attempted extortion.

This is a serious blow to the cause of justice throughout the land. The fact that the murderers are still under 21 years of age was the one reason offered by the court as an excuse for his refusal to impose the death penalty. The sentence has brought very general condemnation upon Judge Caverty who, with this decision, relieves from the criminal court, and it may be said that neither the bench nor the cause of justice and right will have any reason to regret his going.

During the trial, one of the defendants referred to him as "a friendly judge" and before the sentence was pronounced one of the prisoners offered to bet that the decision would not bring the death penalty.

All during the hearing it was evident that the judge was friendly disposed to the prisoners. This was particularly so in one of the published pictures in connection with the early investigations, showing the judge and one of the prisoners side by side and the judge smiling as if enjoying the companionship of the prisoner.

The effect of this decision, we regret to say, cannot fail to offer encouragement especially to younger criminals throughout the land; and the number unfortunately is already alarmingly great.

The inference in some quarters will be, that these boys "were too rich to hang." That statement was freely made during the hearing and the decision of the court gives color and plausibility to that charge although we believe the fault, if any, rests with Judge Caverty. It is no wonder that Chicago leads the world in the number of cases of murder and manslaughter for a city of its size.

COOLIDGE CRUSADERS

Crusading for Coolidge in a motor caravan is a rather novel feature to be injected into the present campaign. A corps of speakers, well known politicians and eloquent no doubt, are engaged for the caravan tour from Plymouth Notch, Vt., to the Pacific coast. With ample advertising, the progress of this motor party will be duly announced in advance and at each city the adherents of the Coolidge cause will provide a suitable reception and an audience to hear the speakers.

This is all very fine. The plan is something similar to that adopted by the small traveling circuses; but in this case there is no admission charged to the show.

On the first day of the tour, the speakers gave an inkling of what they intend to keep shouting all along the route to the coast. It is the slogan devised by Col. Harvey, "Coolidge or Chaos," and this party of campaigners can be relied upon to spread the calamity howl as widely and loudly as possible along the route.

They raise the bogey of the election of president being thrown into congress and the radicals electing Gov. Bryan as president. But that is merely a ruse by which they hope to bolster up a lost cause and avert defeat as it is flanked by the leaders that Coolidge will fall 45 votes short of election.

Col. Harvey figured that Davis would come within 25 votes of the number necessary to elect. Therefore, it is reasonable to assume that the safest and best way to avert the possibility, if such there be, of the chaos predicted by Harvey and shouted from the house tops by republican campaigners, is to support Davis and land him in the White House.

Republicans attempt to belittle the Davis campaign but it is making effective inroads upon the republican reserves. There is certainly no apathy in democratic circles. In New York city on Tuesday night the active campaign for Davis and Bryan was opened with no fewer than 35 great rallies and Governor Smith has not yet started on his tour of the country. Wherever Mr. Davis goes he wins popular favor by his clear, truthful and logical presentation of conditions; the cause of the business depression and the remedy.

The calamity shouters who are opposing him are responsible for the depressed conditions which prevail throughout the country today although President Coolidge says we are prosperous. The remedy for the present industrial and other ills lies in the election of the democratic party. This will put an end to the mismanagement of the government, the corruption and rascality that ruled at Washington under the republican administration.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN

Now that the primaries are over and all nominations made, the stage is set for the campaign in this state for governor and other state officials as well as for United States senator and congressmen.

While most people are not surprised at the victory of Lieut. Gov. Fuller over Mr. Jackson, his opponent, the friends of the latter are understood to be very much disappointed over his defeat. They made a hard fight and lost, and in some instances it was not a fair fight. The whispering campaign conducted against Mr. Fuller very evidently did not have any serious effect. The voters are becoming wary of statements that cannot be made openly and in public by any organization. It is regarded with suspicion if its members are afraid to acknowledge their connection with it and are satisfied to go about their work of campaign in secret. To the credit of the lieutenant governor, it can be said that he struck no foul blows in his anti-primary campaign and that he defeated his opponent by fair and honorable methods.

The contest now lies between Mayor Curley of Boston, the democratic nominee for governor, and Mr. Fuller, Mr. Curley is an able speaker and a tireless campaigner, who is widely known throughout the state. He is sure to make a vigorous fight for election.

But even of greater interest will be the contest for United States senator between Hon. David I. Walsh and Speaker Gillett who has been nominated as the candidate favored by President Coolidge.

Call to Battle

Careless Tailor

The young wife sat plying her needle. A coat of her husband's was in her lap. As the husband appeared, she said, feigning: "It's too bad, the careless way the tailor sewed this button on. This is the fifth time I've had to put it back for you."—Pearson's Weekly.

No Such Stock

"Algeron is very interesting," said Mr. Crumcrox's daughter. "What does he talk about?" inquired her father. "Why, he's ever so well posted on Shakespearean quotations." "Young woman," said Mr. Crumcrox, "don't let him deceive you. Don't you let him make sport of your ignorance. There ain't no such stock on the market."

Impossible Demand

"But," objected Mr. Sparker, when the young man had made known his wish to marry Miss Sparker, "you have never shown that you are capable of supporting a wife." The young man seemed thoughtful, but was quick with his answer. "If, sir," he added, "you want her to marry a widower, I must confess that I can't qualify."—Farm Life.

Worse Than Foolish

Thomas was not a prime favorite with his rich uncle. In vain did he try to impress him, but the old man was not easily impressed. One evening the young man went to his uncle's home for a call, and in the course of conversation asked: "Uncle, don't you think it would be rather foolish for me to marry a girl who was intellectually my inferior?" "Worse than foolish, Thomas," was the reply. "Worse than foolish—impossible!"

In the Mud

One rainy evening a tourist in Central Arkansas stopped at the Smithville garage to inquire about the condition of the road to Punction, which was not hard-surfaced. "Couldn't say," drawled the garage man in response to the stranger's question. "Do you know anybody who might know about it?" asked the tourist. "There's a fellow that works here that would," answered the native after a brief pause. "Can I see him?" "Wal, replied the garage man, slowly, "ye'll have to wait a while. He got stuck in the mud on that road this mornin' and he ain't out yet."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Not For Jacques

Jacques had not been over from France very long and did not know the language very well, so when he wanted to know the meaning of a word he went to his friend Hodges. One day he asked: "What is a pole bear?" "You mean a polar bear? That's an animal that lives on the ice and eats fish." "I will not be heem!" said Jacques, excitedly. "My dear fellow," said Hodges, "no one wants you to be a polar bear." "But, yes, monsieur," answered Jacques: "a man next door to me and he neighbors say will I be pole bear. But live on ice and eat fish—never!"

A Little While

The darkest hour the winter sends Can't quench or cloud the thought. That summer days, like smiling friends, Are hastening hither, favor-fraught. On windy mountain, moor and fen, A little while, and flowers will lift Their faces to the light again.

A little while—a little while! What comfort in the thought we find When life itself has ceased to thrill. When all the world has proved unkind!

A little while of grief and gloom, A little while of sorrow's sting, And then—the fadeless flowers that bloom For us in some eternal spring!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"All New England Week," Sept. 15-20, is near at hand. Active local campaigners in the cause of renewed prosperity are redoubling their efforts to record Lowell in first place. Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston, familiar of old to many Lowell citizens, is now in charge of one branch of the campaign to boost "All New England Week" and the purchasing of New England-made goods. The Fitzgerald program calls for the statewide promotion of a drive to secure 1,000,000 members of the New England week committee in 10 days.

Lowell business boosters have been asked to help, and Lowell chamber of commerce members have been given full and complete notice. The latest program instituted to keep alive and push along the campaign to bring prosperity back to New England's every section where the wheels of industry are not running as smoothly or as regularly as before. The committee headed by Mayor John F. Fitzgerald hopes to turn the contest into an avalanche of prizes and new members. The prizes offered by the committee will be awarded as follows: First prizes to man or woman, and boy or girl under 18, with obvious the greatest number of new members in cities and towns of more than 2000 population, and the man, woman or child who obtains the most number of members in towns with less than 2000 population. The eight second prizes will be awarded under the same program to those obtaining the second highest number of new members. The conditions of the contest can be obtained by addressing "The Million New Members Committee," 412 New Chamber of Commerce building, 80 Federal street, Boston. There are pledge cards and buttons prepared for all entrants in the prize contests. There are eight first prizes, each consisting of $100 worth of New England-made goods.

W. R. Green, speaker before the Lowell A. C. club at its regular meeting yesterday, gave one of the most entertaining talks on business and the romance attached thereto that I have ever heard. Speaking of the successful business man, Mr. Green said that the man who is ruled by his pay envelope is the man who will never achieve success. "The three prerogatives of successful business," said the speaker, "are product, personality and service." Product, that which satisfies legitimately human want; personality, the ability to be cheerful on the job every day, and service, the final stepping stone to success. Get away from provincialism and the dollar and cents psychology, look for romance and thereby attain success."

Objection to being held up by a grocer named Frank Salky, gave chase to a robber in Danville, Ill. He collapsed, however, after several shots had been fired at him, and a posse found he was apparently covered with blood. At the hospital surgeons found that the dripping red on his clothing was not blood but soda fountain syrup from a bottle shattered by one of the shots. It was further found that the man was not struck by any of the bullets, although on seeing what he supposed was blood all over his clothing, he thought that he had been hit. This was an illustration of the power of imagination.

In connection with the rescue of a man overcome by smoke in a Williams street lodging house yesterday, it has come to my attention that Captain Joseph L. Crowe of the fire department was the man responsible for the heroism. In company with members of his detachment, Capt. Crowe braved dense volumes of smoke to reach the bedside of the man who was unconscious through smoke inhalation. Captain Crowe and his assistants rushed him to an airy hallway and revived him.

SUNNET

Oh, ever shall I wear the form we love
To bid the shapes of fear and grief depart.
Come, gentle Hope! with one gay smile remove
The lasting sadness of an aching heart.
Thy voice, benign enchantress, let me hear:
Say that for some pleasures yet shall bloom
That Fancy's radiance, Friendship's precious tear, Shall soften, or shall chase, misfortune's gloom.
But come not glowing in the dazzling ray
Which once with dear illusions charm'd my eye.
Oh, strew no more, sweet flatterer, on my way
The flowers I fondly thought too bright to die;
Visions less fair will soothe my pensive breast,
That asks not happiness, but longs to rest!

—Helen Maria Williams

SWEET SIXTEEN

She's merely a nymph of the modern day, and she flitters through space like a streak. No worry or fret interferes with her play, for she's carefree, at best, so to speak.

Lo, many a dainty snail-slipper she wears till the soles are all shiny and through. She slips on the slippers, and puts on some airs as she's dancing a fox-trot or two.

The flimsy-like dresses are favorites of hers, and she makes them appear at their best. Whenever a party or dancant occurs, you'll find her quite flashily dressed.

A bow in her hair that is shingle-bobbed neat, adds its touch to the spirit of joy. A picture that artists would figure a treat self-confident, cheerful and coy.

And who is this nymph who is bubbling in youth; of care-free living the queen? She's only a modern young lady, in truth America's child—Sweet Sixteen!

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY PLANS BIG FAIR

Products of Lowell industries as well as home gardens will be exhibited at the coming Middlesex North Agricultural society fair, on Sept. 17 and 18, in Memorial Auditorium. If the fair promoters' plans for extra feature displays in home products succeed.

The proposed exhibition of Lowell-made merchandise of every kind, would represent the city's observance of "All New England Week" during which time the Agricultural society gives its annual show.

The society officials have been assured by the chamber of commerce that the latter organization will cooperate with the movement. Corridors around the main Auditorium will be devoted to booths, where manufacturers of the city may place exhibits. The suggestion has caught the fancy of many business men who have already engaged space in the corridors.

Any manufacturer who desires to exhibit home products and wants ample booth space, may secure positions by applying to Secretary Manager George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce; George H. Upton, George Trull of North Tewksbury, John A. Weinbeck and Charles T. Upton of Lowell, John Foster, Fred Tuttle, Francis Trull or E. F. Dickinson of Billerica, Arthur Colburn, Mrs. Gertrude Fox and James J. McManis of Dracut and Mrs. Wright of Westford.

It is planned to present some form of good entertainment during the course of the two days' fair in the Auditorium. The exhibits of vegetables, fruits, flowers and New England-made products as well as Lowell-made

HALLETT'S ORCHESTRA AT THE COMMODORE

Mal Hallett and his celebrated orchestra will be the attraction at the Commodore ball room this evening. Mal and his team have been attracting large crowds at this resort and the brand of music furnished by this organization is sure to please the dance fans of this city. All the latest and up-to-date hits are played and a pleasant evening is always assured when Hallett and his troupe appear at this hall. The admission this evening is 10 cents.

There will be check dancing Friday and Saturday evenings with Minner Doyle's orchestra in the pit.

Y.M.C.A. EXHIBIT

An interesting exhibit displaying the work of the Y.M.C.A. in New England will be open to the public during New England week, which begins Sept. 15, at the Y.M.C.A. building. The exhibit will consist of pictures, printed material and programs showing the work of the organization in various parts of New England. These exhibits will be mounted and framed for the citizens of Lowell to view. The work is in the hands of N. R. Farnum, social secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY
CIRCLE MEETING

The Women's Missionary circle of the First Baptist church held a well attended meeting at the church yesterday afternoon with Miss Fannie Sheppard, president, in the chair.

Mrs. Myron Fuller, past president, led the devotion after which various committees reported favorably. Mrs. Gilman Alcott was reappointed chairman of the White Cross work.

An entertainment program in which Mrs. S. W. Hinds, Miss Minnie Taylor, Mrs. H. F. Howe and Mrs. Harry Leamas participated, was well received by the large gathering. "Educational Work in Japan," an instructive talk on the progress of Japan along educational lines, was given by Mrs. C. Midgley and Mrs. L. Trull. An electrically lighted map showing the sections in which the work is progressing was used to illustrate the talk.

Mrs. J. F. Shipp, Mrs. O. F. Simmons and Mrs. John Thorne were the hostesses of the afternoon.

TEACHERS PLAN
ENTERTAINMENTS

The Lowell Teachers' organization has arranged for a series of high-class entertainments to be given in the Lowell Memorial Auditorium, the benefit of which will be donated to the school children's fund to provide for grammar or high school pupils unable to continue their education, further opportunities educationally. Course tickets will be sold for the various entertainments the first of which will be given on Nov. 12 when "The Barber of Seville," in English, conducted by Gustav Hinrichs will be offered.

The other attractions which will be given on dates to be announced later are: Suzanne Keener, soloist of the Metropolitan Opera company; Delia Baker with Isakalka Russian orchestra; Katherine Pitt Jones, reader with Georgia Price, harpist.

OF JOURNALISM

Mr. George Pelletier of School street, left last night for New York where he will enter Columbia university's school of Journalism. Mr. Pelletier is a graduate of Holy Cross college, and has had journalistic experience with the Manchester Mirror and the Boston American, being local correspondent for the latter paper for several months. He will enter Columbia with the second year professional class.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Breakfast—Grapes, uncooked cereal, creamed bacon on toast, baked potato, puffs, coffee, milk.

Luncheon—Vegetable soup, toast, sticks, rice pudding, tea, milk.

Dinner—Steamed haddock, creamed potatoes, green beans, pear salad, whole wheat bread, butter, junket ice cream, lady fingers, milk, coffee.

The peas salad for the four-year-old child should be simplified or omitted. The grapes should be seeded and the skins removed.

Creamed Bacon on Toast

Six thin slices bacon, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, few grains pepper. Broil bacon until crisp. Remove from broiler and keep hot. Put 2 tablespoons bacon fat in frying pan, add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk, slowly, stirring constantly. Season with pepper and add bacon broken into bits. Pour over hot toast and serve with broiled tomatoes to grown-ups or children of school age.

Broiled Tomatoes

Wash solid tomatoes but do not peel. Cut in half-inch slices. Dip in hot bacon fat and broil over fire or under gas broiler. Brown first on one side and then on the other.

The child who carries his luncheon to school must eat a hearty, unhurried breakfast. No matter how heavily the evening meal is, the morning meal is the one that must see the child through the school hours. A protein food to build and repair tissues, fat and carbohydrate to produce quick energy and heat and the very necessary mineral salts and vitamins, must be included in his breakfast.

Baked Potato Puffs

Two cups mashed potato, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup hot milk, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper.

Boil potatoes in their "jackets." Remove skins and mash. Season with salt, pepper, butter and milk. Beat well. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Beat into mashed potato. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into potato mixture. Drop by spoonfuls onto a buttered dripping pan and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

Toast Sticks

WEAR RUBBER GLOVES

Wear rubber gloves when you do any dyeing so that your hands will be protected from stains.

TRAFFIC DELAYED
BY DERAILED CAR

A Billerica Center-bound electric car which left the transfer station here at 5:07 o'clock last evening jumped the rails at the corner of Gorham and Cosgrove streets at 5:25 and partially tied up traffic for about half an hour. Supl. Thomas Sayers believes that the accident was due to the displacement by the rain of the temporary cross-over and switch. Upper Gorham street is at the present time under construction and one side of the street and one set of rails are open for use. At the corner of Cosgrove street it is necessary that street cars and other traffic swing across the road to avoid further repair work. For this reason a temporary cross-over has been constructed by the railway company. When the car of which Operator D. Primeau was in charge was on the cross-over and blocking the traveled way it left the tracks. Passengers of other cars were forced to transfer around the point from 5:25 until 6 o'clock.

MOREHOUSE BAKING CO.

"The neighbors get me to bake their pies in my Glenwood."

—Mrs. Duncan wrote

MRS. DUNCAN'S range was bought in 1894. "I surely do feel proud of my Glenwood," she wrote us. "Some of the friends I baked for had new stoves."

Thirty-year old Glenwoods that bake "as well as they ever did" are not uncommon.

And you can depend on the newest labor-saving Glenwoods of today for the same long service and the same daily helpfulness that makes cooking easy.

The Gold Medal Glenwood

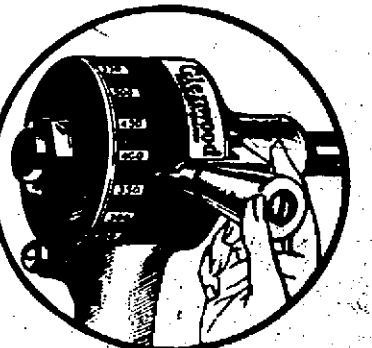

The modern advantages of this range are its combination of fuels and its great capacity. It has an automatically regulated gas oven, a gas broiler and a large coal oven. In pearl-gray porcelain enamel or standard black finish.

LOWELL BOYS GO TO DEAN

George "Pete" Sheehan and Dan O'Connor to Enter Franklin Institution

Will Aspire to Places on Football Team — Both Well Known Here

Of interest to local sport followers is the announcement today of the entrance at Dean academy, Franklin, of two well known local athletes, George "Pete" Sheehan and "Dan" O'Connor. Both boys, unless something unforeseen develops, expect to leave for the well known prep school the latter part of the week.

Sheehan was graduated from Lowell high school last June, has been working all summer, and has kept himself in the best possible condition, running and swimming. He played football on the team for four years at high school and last year was captain of the team and an "L" man three years. He was also, prior to breaking his leg in the Lowell high school game, a valuable track man and was also captain of the track team a year ago last fall. He is a good ball player as well and all in all is an all round athlete. Sheehan is anxious to get hold of the old pigskin once more and has been on the leading halfback position on the varsity team.

"Dan" O'Connor is equally well known and is popular locally as "Pete" and he also is bound to make a name for himself at Dean. Dan has been the outstanding star of the O.M.I. Cadet's football team for the past three or four years, has captained the team successfully for two seasons, and in his absence the O.M.I.'s will certainly feel the loss of their former leader. "Dan" in addition to his football prowess is a basketball player of rare ability and has been a familiar figure on local and out-of-town floors for several seasons. He, too, is an all-round athlete and, certainly, make the rest of the crowd proud to have a son of his caliber.

Both boys have the well wishes of a host of friends and it is hoped that the Franklin institution and no doubt will reflect credit on themselves and the city they represent.

BOXING BOUTS TONIGHT

Moody Club to Open Season With Four Events at the Crescent Rink

With four good looking bouts and the returns of the Firpo-Wills fight by radio as an added attraction the Moody club will open the local boxing season at the Crescent rink tonight, the first number going on at 8:15 o'clock.

In the main event Frankie Hebert, past and present champion of the New England flyweight title, will meet Woe Willie Woods, the hard hitting, aggressive Scottish champion at the weight. Woods fought a thrilling battle against Newbery Brown, the dazzling sensation from the west in Boston on Tuesday night, and while defeated he put up a whale of an argument.

Experts at the ringside pronounced Woods the greatest boy of his weight in the game, adding that he looked like the best bet in the field to "take" Villa and Genaro. He threw everything he possessed at the latter, but the latter, fighting gamely all the way, Woods emerged from the bout unharmed and according to word from the Moody club today he's fit for another hectic encounter.

Tommy Leonard, local boy, will appear in the semi-final against Irish Dan Mahony of Cambridge. This number is scheduled to go eight rounds, but as both are heavy hitters, many feel it will terminate early.

Chris Anderson who created quite a sensation at the amateur shows conducted by the Lisbon club last season, will make his first local appearance as a professional in one of the preliminaries, meeting Bud Jackson of Lawrence. Anderson since turning "pro" has won two fights, both one-round knockouts. His first came at Nashua and the other was executed at Manchester.

In the other prelim Tommy Clayton of South Boston and Sallor Muniye of Salem will trade wallop.

WINNER TO MEET DEMPSEY

Most Colorful Crowd Since Dempsey Kayoed Carpenter in Same Ring Expected

Experts in Final Published Opinions Disagree Almost Evenly Upon the Result

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The primitive lure of combat will center the attention of a large part of the nation tonight upon the arena at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City, where Harry Wills and Luis Angel Firpo meet in a 12-round heavyweight battle with a match against Champion Jack Dempsey as a prize to the winner.

The fight is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock daylight saving time, but if rain threatens will be thrown ahead as early as 8:30. Fair skies, however, are promised by the weather bureau.

Tex Rickard has apparently won the lead in the betting, the odds being 10 to 1 in favor of the United States champion. Rickard's district court at Newark will act this morning on an application for a bench warrant asking the arrest of Firpo on a charge of violation of the white slave act. Ring followers were certain that the latest attempt to prevent the bout would fail.

The principals went to Jersey City this morning to remain until time for the battle. The most colorful crowd which has attended a fight since Jack Dempsey knocked out Georges Carpentier in "the battle of the century" in the same ring three years ago, is expected to witness the fight. Final published opinions, disagree almost evenly upon the result. Broadly, their speculations credit Wills with the superior science and Firpo with the greater power and aggressiveness. Those who favor Firpo maintain that his sheer force will override Wills despite the latter's cleverness. Those who back the negro champion, however, feel that the Argentine will be an easy target and that Wills has enough punch to drop him.

Principals expressed confidence in final statements. Firpo declared unequivocally that it was "Wills' doom" and that he would go on to the championship. Wills, on the other hand, was more reserved, but quite certain. Both men were judged to be in splendid physical condition. Their probable weights were announced today as 215 for the negro and 218 for the Argentine.

Danny Sullivan who will referee the struggle, is known as a capable, courageous and experienced judge. "Fighting summary" Firpo and Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine, vs. Harry Wills, New York, negro heavyweight champion of the world.

Place—Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, N. J. Time—Main bout 10 o'clock daylight saving time. If rain threatens, men will be called to ring at 8:30 o'clock. Gates open at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Weather—Fair and cooler. No rain indicated by weather bureau. Length of bout—12 rounds—with no decision by referee under the laws of New Jersey.

Time of rounds—three minutes each, with one minute intermission between each round. Estimated attendance about $300,000, of which Firpo's share will be $175,000. Estimated receipts, $700,000.

Priced of admission—$2.20 to $27.50, including war tax. Firpo, 28; Wills, 32. Weights—Firpo, 218 pounds; Wills, 215 pounds. Heights—Firpo, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches; Wills, 6 feet 2 inches.

Referee—Danny Sullivan. Preliminaries—Charley McKenna vs. Miguel Ferrera, four rounds; Joe Wilk vs. Carl Johnson, four rounds; Bill Tate vs. John Casanova, six rounds; Joe Stolsel vs. Jim Maloney, six rounds; and Charley Nashert vs. Mike Burke, eight rounds.

Wills knows the kind of fighter Firpo is. Wills says he has never seen him. Wills remembers that even old man Willard made a sucker of Firpo for six rounds with a long straight left hand, landing so often ringersiders grew weary tabulating the unreturned blows. Wills has a great left hand. Infinitely better than Willard's at the cow puncher's restraining message: "But you'll finally get his right over!"

Wills will not make the mistake Dempsey did. He will not charge into Firpo without any preliminary fiddling around. There will be no sudden volcanic outbursts of fighting fury, the type best suited to the South American savagery. Wills will stand back, bide his time, watch for openings and then fire, with the precision of a sharpshooter.

And still another: "All Firpo's got is a right hand but, peasants, it is a right hand!"

Two questionable points about Wills: (1) the condition of his hands, always ungainly; (2) the quality of his courage, never of the lofty, heroic sort. Wills says both his hands are hard as granite. You believe him, watching him pummel the big bags and massage his giant sparring partners. As to his courage you can only guess. It seems confident enough—even more confident, for that matter, than the bull.

Once more: "Any bird who hits hard enough to knock a champion clear out of the ring is no Flat Top."

Well, that's that. Our dope is that Wills is cagey and clever enough to stay away from the bull's right hand—and any fighter who can do that can beat him.

Defeat Braves 22 to 1 and 8 to 0—Frisch Makes Six Consecutive Hits—Emil Meusel Celebrates His Return to Game With Five Hits—Senators Split Twin Bill

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Victory came to John McGraw yesterday and before the day was over the National league champions had strengthened their position in first place to one full game and the Braves were drowned under a 22 to 1 and 8 to 0 waterfall. The Giants total in the first contest established a major league record for the season.

In the first game, as though freed from long confinement, the Giants gambled and cavorted. Frank Frisch got six consecutive hits, and narrowly escaped tying the seven straight record made by Wilbert Robinson in 1894. Emil Meusel celebrated his return from the bench with five hits. Hank Gowdy, Frisch and Ted Simmons escaped tying the seven straight record made by Wilbert Robinson in 1894. Emil Meusel celebrated his return from the bench with five hits. Brooklyn sailed smoothly as Ehrhardt won his fifth straight game, allowing Philadelphia only five hits in the first inning. But the double win of the Giants permitted them to draw another half game away from the Robins. Stock fielded brilliantly.

ALL RUNNERS ADVANCE ON PASSED BATTER

BY BILLY EVANS For years the intentional pass has been one of the most discussed features of baseball.

It is regarded as an evil. Scores of suggestions have been offered for its elimination, but it continues to be part of the game.

The New York club plays Babe Ruth more than $60,000 a year for his ability to hit the ball farther than any other human being.

The fans flock to the park to see Ruth in action. The big fellow has broken every attendance figure in baseball. They come to see Ruth hit or strike out. There is a thrill in either act, according to the partisan view of the fan.

Then the opposing pitcher takes all the fun out of life by passing Ruth every time a runner is on and a base hit might mean the ball game. Well, do I recall a game in which Ruth, in order to do the pitcher, sacrificed by the possibility of seeing him make a home run, was walked four times with runners on.

Ever Has New Idea No doubt several hundred in that big crowd were watching Ruth for the first time. To them that game was one of the most important in the well played from a strategic standpoint, it was a knock from the viewpoint of the fan who came to see Ruth hit.

Johnny Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is well known for the "touching second" episode featuring Fred Merkle, has a suggestion relative to base on balls in general, which by reaction solves the intentional pass.

His suggestion is that the pitcher, in order to do the pitcher, sacrifice by the possibility of seeing him make a home run, was walked four times with runners on.

At first glance this rule may seem rather drastic and its direct bearing on the intentional pass may not be apparent.

Years ago, when it was suggested that the first two fouls be called strikes, if there were no called strikes on the batsman, the idea was ridiculous.

Today the foul-strike rule is a feature of the game that will probably never be tinkered with. The rule eliminates the practice of fouling off to the batsman, the idea was ridiculous.

Under the suggestion of Evers the unintentional or intentional pass would be equally penalized.

Wills Would Be Catty A dozen situations could be cited where the pitcher would jeopardize his game by an intentional pass, since it would mean not only the granting of first base to the batsman but also an extra base for every other runner.

Incidentally Evers is of the opinion that his suggestion would lead for more evenly balanced teams and closer pennant races.

The helper teams have the smarter pitchers. Often smart pitchers means working the corners to the limit. The double penalty for a base on balls would force the pitchers to get the ball over the plate, take a bigger gamble with the batsman.

There is much logic in the views of Evers. Certainly the suggestion is no more drastic than the foul-strike rule. Unquestionably it would make the intentional pass a negative quantity.

CAWLEY COACH OF TEXTILE TEAM On Sept. 17, Eddie Cawley, coach of the Lowell Textile school football team, will issue the first call for candidates for the 1924 season. Cawley's all-around athletic experience, gained in the South coast, will prove to the engineers this year. Eddie once starred at Colby and knows the game inside out.

FIRST GAME IN POST SEASON SERIES The first game in the post-season series between the Pawtucket A.A. and Marlin's American League team will be played on Sept. 13 at Pawtucket, beginning at 6 o'clock sharp. Players of both sides are requested to put in an appearance at 5:45. Regular lineups will be to be and the winner of the series will take a purse of $100. The Pawtucket finished second in the City Twilight league, and the Americans, third.

HARRY STEEL AND "MA" STEEL

EAST SPARTA, O., Sept. 11 (By N.E.A. Service)—Wrestling with humanity in the form of Olympic competition and wrestling with hay on the farm are matters with wide divergence but they count decidedly in the life of Harry Steel of this little village.

Steel, a graduate of Ohio State university, is the new Olympic heavyweight wrestling champion. Steel went over with the team as an alternate, answered the call of emergency, broke into four matches and won them all. What's more, Steel looked the part of a finished artist.

Several promoters have tried to persuade him to adopt wrestling as a profession, confident of his ability to wrestle on even terms against Strangler Lewis, the Zhyzsko brothers and Pleshtina. "I'd rather stay here and work on the farm and be near Ma," says Steel.

Ohio State will miss Steel this year. For three years he was a star tackle on the football teams and last year he captained the wrestling squad when it won the western conference title. Steel is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 210 pounds.

THE NUT CRACKER

CAMERA COTTIES SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 11.—It takes all sorts of fancy debris to make a tasty dish of hash and the exact number of assorted nuts required to produce one so-called civilized world is bigger than the combined batting averages of Pop Anson and Ty Cobb.

No one probably ever will be able to understand why people are completely stymied by the nut, a completely presentable reason why people with obvious intelligence and normal pituitary glands will turn away from the nut is that they are afraid of the nut.

Another strain of national imbecility that warrants official observation is the stymied trying to unearth one sound, presentable reason why people with obvious intelligence and normal pituitary glands will turn away from the nut is that they are afraid of the nut.

But the three-star special in the big-house swappstakes, guaranteed to cater to a demagogical first by seven in-sane lengths, or your stratagem back. The amateur Kodak fiend.

This incurable snapshot plague abounds in large and enviable numbers at training camps of fighters and is invariably accompanied by an accomplice of the neither sex who takes turn about in posing with the thick-skinned gladiators.

Wills, who is as easy to get along with as the family mattress, has posed for a million camera cotties and in every guise before a Scandinavian squash to Adam's rib Rose.

The current trick is furnished in two modes of posing. In the first, the subject of a round, whether it be of a fight or a light exercise, the fend will be in a palpitating voice and plead "That's just for a second, please."

YOUNG SONS MAY REVIVE OLD STAFF

By N. E. A. Service NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 11.—Will the old battery of Ed Walsh and Billy Sullivan be revived by their sons?

That question has arisen in the minds of sports followers as it became certain that the sons of the famous White Sox pair will meet at Notre Dame for four years in baseball.

That Ed Walsh, Jr., will wear the Irish colors was assured a few days ago when the old White Sox pitcher, now coach with the Cincinnati outfit, visited Notre Dame to arrange for his son's entrance this fall.

"Many schools in the east besieged the lad with offers," the elder Walsh said. "But," he admitted that his Irish spirit was largely dictating the decision, "the final say is mine. That's why he will come to Notre Dame."

A number of months ago, relatives of Billy Sullivan, Jr., announced that he would enter Notre Dame this month. In Massachusetts, where the prowess of the young athlete is universally known, the name of Billy Sullivan is one to conjure with.

Ed Walsh, Jr., stands six feet, one inch in height and weighs 178 pounds. "He huris a baseball much better than I was ever able to do at his age," spoke his father.

Back in the old days, when the White Sox were winning pennants with regularity, Ed Walsh was a great pitcher and Billy Sullivan a great catcher.

SIX EVENTS ON GRAND CIRCUIT PROGRAM

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Six events, with a total value of $23,200 are on today's Grand Circuit program.

In addition to the Empire State stakes there will be the governor's stake for 212 trotters with half a dozen contestants for the $5000 stake. There is the Lieutenant-governor stake for the 203 class, the Ondaora pace for three-year-olds, and the 204 pace, the Syracuse, which carries a value of $2500. There is also the 215 trot for a purse of $1200.

The Chamber of Commerce stakes, carrying a prize of $10,000 for 208 pacers, will be held over until tomorrow as will the Western Horseman's stakes in both divisions. A card of nine races, starting at 10:30, according to present plans, will close the meeting on Friday. The weather tomorrow is expected to be showery.

WILLS IS FAVORED TO DEFEAT FIRPO

By N. E. A. Service SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 11.—Sitting down to type prophetic lines on the outcome of the fight between Firpo and Wills, our fingers move with easy confidence across the keyboard.

Franklin institution and no doubt will reflect credit on themselves and the city they represent.

AMERICANS SEEK TO RESIST EFFORTS OF AUSTRALIANS TO TAKE CUP

United States Begins New Chapter in Lawn Tennis History—Breaks Up Successful Combination of Last Four Years—Richards Supplants Veteran Johnson

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—America begins today a new chapter in its lawn tennis history, when, with the breaking up of its successful combination of the last four years, it seeks to resist the efforts of the challenging Australians to carry away the Davis cup, symbol of international team supremacy.

Tennis experts gathered from all sections of the country at the Germantown Cricket club where the two singles matches opening the challenge round will be played this afternoon, regard the supplanting in the singles of William M. Johnston of California, the veteran team mate of William T. Tilden, 3d, national champion, by the youthful Vincent Richards of New York, not merely as the result of an outcome of this year's play but also as a bit of foreboding. The experts, pointing to Richards' playing record, including victories in the Olympic singles and doubles, a triumph over Johnston in the east-west matches and a five-set battle with Tilden, and emphasizing the difference of about ten years in his age and that of Tilden and Johnston, professed to see the beginning of the setting up of America's future machinery for defense of the famous Davis trophy.

This will be the eighth time that Australia and the United States have met in the Davis cup challenge round since the trophy was donated by Dwight F. Davis in 1900, Australia winning four times and America three. Gerald L. Patterson, captain of the Australian team, and Pat O'Hara Wood will play in both the singles and doubles for the challengers. In the singles today Patterson meets Tilden at 3:30 p. m. In the opening match while O'Hara Wood and Richards meet at the conclusion of this contest.

Four singles and one doubles match will be played, the cup going to the winner of three contests. The doubles, in which Tilden and Johnston will meet Patterson and O'Hara Wood, will be played tomorrow and the other two singles on Saturday. Five matches will be played regardless of whether either team wins three straight. Geo. W. Wightman will be the referee.

America has successfully defended the coveted prize since it was recaptured from Australia in 1920, twice against Australia and once against Japan. In all this country has won the cup seven times and Australia six.

WEBB PRAISES MELLO

Famous Trainer Says Lowell Boy Rated Championship in Letter to The Sun

Spike Webb, famous trainer, who had charge of the U. S. Olympic boxing team in the recent games at Paris, is back to work as physical instructor at the U. S. Naval academy, Annapolis, Maryland, according to a letter to Raymond E. Dowd, who covered the Olympic games for The Sun.

In his letter Mr. Webb expressed his gratitude to The Sun man for his laudatory references to him in the various articles published during his stay in Paris, saying that he treasured the clippings sent him by Al Mello. Mr. Webb also pays tribute to Mello and his manager, John Souza. He says he will always pleasantly recall his association with the Lowell trio during the Paris games.

Trainer Webb, like the other Americans who witnessed the bout, expresses his regret at the unjust decision, which deprived Mello of the world's title in the welterweight class.

His letter, in part, follows:

"Well, how are my good old Lowell friends? I suppose you, Souza and Mello, have had many good times discussing the activities in Paris. It sure was some time, a visit I shall never forget.

"I was pleased to read about the great reception given to Mello upon his return to Lowell. He certainly did deserve what your paper termed a 'tribute from city and state.' It ever a fellow won a title and didn't get it, it was Mello. He surely rated the championship. No better, or more loyal and ever draw on a glove than Al Mello. My one wish is that he will go to the very highest peak if he elects to follow up the boxing game.

"Your articles on the boxing activities over there were very picturesque and interesting, and those complimentary references to yours truly were 'all wool and a yard wide.' I appreciate them greatly.

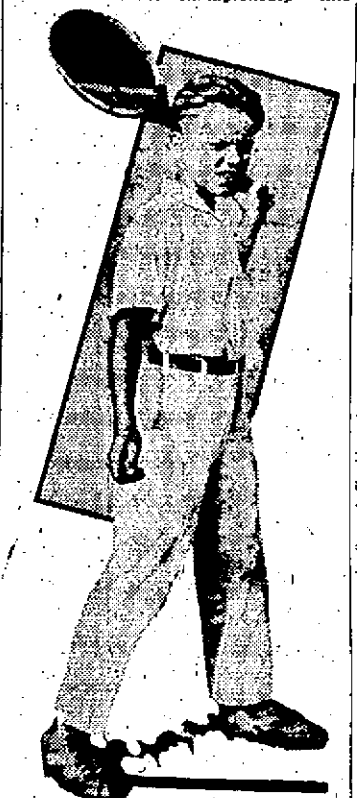

"I am now back on the job at the academy, turning out knuckle fingers for Uncle Sam.

"Best regards to John, Al and yourself.

Always your friend,
SPIKE WEBB."

HE'S REAL STAR AT 12 YEARS OF AGE

A mere slip of a kid, Robert Bryan of Chattanooga, 12 years of age, proved the big thriller in the Tennessee state tennis championship this

DR. ARIZAGA TO LEAD ECUADOREAN REBELS

QUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Sept. 11.—The Ecuadorean rebels have proclaimed as their leader Dr. Rafael Arizaga, acting minister to Brazil, who is said to be present in Panama.

Dr. Arizaga was minister to the United States during President Taft's administration and represented Ecuador at the Pan-American conference in Santiago, Chile, last year.

A Guayaquil dispatch yesterday said troops had been despatched from Quito to the northern part of Ecuador to suppress a revolutionary movement.

LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS IN NEW YORK NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A decision as to the extent Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, will stump the country before election day probably will not be reached until after he opens his campaign with a speech in New York city next week.

Various engagements which would take the candidate into nearly every section are under consideration but thus far he and his managers have not determined upon any routings and it was indicated today that the campaign would be permitted to progress a bit further before a definite speaking schedule is laid out.

After his address in Madison Square garden to be delivered a week from tonight, Senator La Follette expects to return to Washington. He will remain here, according to present indications, at least a week, perhaps longer, before making additional addresses.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

The first game in the post-season series between A.A.A. Americans and the Pawtucket A.A. will be staged on the South common at 8 o'clock sharp this evening. All players are requested to report at 5:45 o'clock. The series will be declared over when one of the teams takes two games. The winner will receive a purse of $100. The second game will be played on the common Friday night.

The big Saturday attraction in this vicinity will be the battle at Alumni field (formerly Spalding park) between the Belvideres and the C.N.A.C. winners of the City and Lowell Twilight League pennants, respectively. In the first encounter of a week ago, the C.N.A.C. capped the bacon with a 5 to 4 win, giving Snubner Trask his first defeat of the season. Much in the last engagement and the management looks for a large delegation of fans at Alumni field. As far as is known, there is no other big-time game in the city this day. Trask and Tardiff will probably pitch and much money has been wagered on the outcome.

Hill Dudley, for the past several years one of Centralville's foremost sport promoters, will be interested in the warfare of the Ponies' football team this year. He announces that a practice session for all candidates will be held in the Lakewood avenue grounds at 7 o'clock this evening and is desirous of communicating with last year's veterans and new aspirants for the game in the city this day. Ponies will have one of the strongest eleven in the city this fall and is now busy preparing a schedule of games.

With the O.M.L. Cadets, the Butlers, Indians, Ponies, St. Peter's Cadets, and other teams to be formed later, local players should have their fill of the grid pastime this coming season.

Kenneth Simendinger, one of the greatest half backs ever to represent the Holy Cross, has been secured by the Worcester officials to lead the Holy Cross team. Coach Clegg O'Donnell with the Holy Cross team.

Bill Cronin, who played third base with the Abbots the past season, has returned to Boston college and is working out daily under Coach Cavanaugh.

The second annual banquet of the City Twilight League will be held in Marie's restaurant next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets have been printed among the various players and their friends. The banquet will be held at 200 sport enthusiasts will be in attendance. T. P. McSorley, president of the league, will be toastmaster. The mayor, members of the city council, the park commission and others have been invited as special guests. The City League pennant was won by the Belvideres, managed by Tom Fleming. This outfit had 11 wins to its credit and only one defeat. Despite his reverse in Boston Tuesday night, Wee Willie Wood is confident of giving Frankie Hebert a boxing lesson in Green's rink this evening. The Lowell boy is ready for him, according to reports and a stiff battle should ensue.

Abbots and Silas came together for the second series game in North Chelmsford this evening. Parties will probably be pitted against Rube Greenhalgh. Abbots took the first encounter by a 9 to 3 score and appear to have the edge on the Silasians.

Orrie Allen has been chosen to work as umpire on bases during the Abbots-Silas series. He started in at Graniteville in the opening game Tuesday night and did a neat job, despite the fact that he had several embarrassing plays to call. Orrie worked for the City league on the South common the past summer.

North Cambridge has been officially declared champions of the Greater Boston Twilight League. Followers of the Lawrence Independents are indignant at the alleged unfair treatment accorded them in the final and deciding clash. They claim they were robbed of the honors by erratic umpiring.

MRS. FITZGERALD GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—One of the most interesting features of the primary

Mrs. Fitzgerald was one of the most popular women democrats in the state until she became a candidate for delegate to the democratic national convention in New York. Although elected a delegate in a contest where the sentiment was shown to be strong for the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Mrs. Fitzgerald

Miss M. Sylvia Donaldson of Brockton, the other woman member of the Massachusetts house, was re-nominated by the republicans in her district.

"POP" GEERS GOES HOME

This is the last homecoming of Edward P. "Pop" Geers. Hundreds of old friends attended his funeral.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

PHILADELPHIA MAN IS RECEIVERS FOR WILSON AND CO. TO CONTINUE AD CLUB SPEAKER

W. R. Green, advertising manager and attorney for the Charles Hires Co., Philadelphia, was the speaker before the Lowell Advertising club at its regular meeting yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. Previous to introducing Mr. Green, President Thomas Atkinson called on various committees to report on their activities. William Bruce, chairman of the outing committee, John J. Moloney, chairman of the prize committee and John Daly chairman of the committee on the advisability of erecting an observation tower on Christian Hill, reported favorably. Mr. Daly stated that it has been deemed advisable to form a commission whose duty it would be to investigate the advisability of erecting a tower on Christian Hill and report same to the city council within six months. The matter will be brought up later after further progress has been made.

Edwin Mellen, Scout executive, gave an interesting explanation of National Defense day in which he urged all Ad club members to turn out on Friday evening as a proof of their patriotism and loyalty.

Mr. Green was then introduced and said in part:

"The most important phase of human existence today is the economic; in other words, business. There are two ways of looking at your job. One is to regard it as a bread and butter proposition, simply a meal ticket. The other is to see the romance behind it, to get interested in it, enthusiastic about it—and thus achieve ultimate success."

"Look behind your job," the speaker said. "There is romance in every man's job if he will look for it. This cup of coffee, for instance," the speaker paused and turned his attention to the cup of coffee in his hands. "This cup of coffee are the people producing the coffee, growing it in Brazil, curing it, shipping it; the crews on board the vessels bringing it to this country. Visualize that back of your cup of coffee and the drink becomes something more than just a little stimulant."

"This piece of bread"—holding a broken luncheon roll in his hands—"was made from wheat flour that was ground probably in Minneapolis, maybe here in this city. The wheat was grown in billowing fields, mile upon endless mile of grain fields, in the northwest hard-wheat region. The shortening used by the baker, the sugar he employed, all the ingredients of this piece of bread have a romance in them. The man who has made a success baking rolls most likely saw the romance back of a crust of bread."

"Finding romance makes success. We have applied it to our business in a concrete form, for back of a 25-cent soda fountain glass are the various ingredients entering into it. We sent a moving picture photographer 25,000 miles through Cuba, Jamaica and So. America, a ten-month trip, to picture the romance back of Hires' Root Beer. We have the only movie ever made of harvesting vanilla beans in Mexico."

Mr. Green emphasized the fact that too many of us are looking for the soft snags in the world, and that there is a dangerous doctrine slowly permeating America—the doctrine that the ideal situation is the situation in which one does not have to work. He concluded by quoting Van Dyke's well known lines on "The Gospel of Labor."

BEN PICKETT OFFERS SERVICES OF THEATRE

Manager Ben Pickett, of R. P. Keith's Lowell amusement enterprise, called at "National Defense Day" headquarters yesterday and assured Major Dunn Palmer, chairman of the citizens committee arranging all details for Lowell's patriotic observance on Sept. 12, that the local theatrical organization, from manager to usher, would participate in the celebration. The theatre management will also participate in the publicity campaign program.

Manager Pickett stated that he had been notified by New York headquarters of the Keith amusement corporation, that the motion picture machine in the local branch theatre would be available without cost, if the Lowell campaigners desired to get further publicity in the Bridge street playhouse by exhibiting propaganda. Maj. Palmer thanked the manager heartily and agreed to take full advantage of the generous offer.

It was growing very dark by this time, and the first thing Jack knew he was out of sight of camp. He turned to go back and discovered that on all sides of him there seemed to be nothing but big trees. Of course the darkness let shadows fall that fooled him. He believed he was lost.

Jack had named his little pet monkey "Flop" because he thought that name and his dog's name went funny together. Flop and Flop. Or Flip Flop, as the little adventurer often referred to them. Well, Flop was a bit scared in the darkness of the jungle, too, and he hopped up on Jack's shoulder.

Flop was used to being with a lot of other monkeys so when he was away from them it is no wonder he was frightened. "Well, what are we going to do now?" asked Jack. The little monkey just squeaked in reply. Then Jack decided to light a match (see if that would attract the other explorers. (Continued.)

PRES. COOLIDGE SILENT ON PRIMARY RESULTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Tabulations of the various state primary elections held this week were carried to the White House today but President Coolidge maintained his silence on the results. Several republican leaders, however, including Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee, and C. E. Hanson, secretary to the president, have voiced considerable enthusiasm over the results. Mr. Coolidge, although he congratulated George Emery, chairman of the republican state committee in Maine, on the election in that state on Monday, has made no comment at any time on any of the inter-party fights settled in the primaries.

SHERIFF'S SALE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex ss., Lowell, Sept. 2, 1924.

By virtue of an execution issued from the District Court of Lowell, dated August 28th, 1924, upon a judgment recovered before said Court on the 22nd day of August, 1924, in the suit of Stanley Urbanek against Martin Saja, alias Martin Saja, of Chelmsford, I have this day seized and taken, and shall sell at Public Auction, for cash to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the 13th day of October, 1924, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at my office, Room 220 Hildreth Bldg., in said Lowell, all the right, title and interest which the said Martin Saja, alias, as aforesaid, had, not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution on this day, when the same was seized and taken by me, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:

A certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in the town of Chelmsford, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the easterly line of the highway leading to North Chelmsford at the intersection of the boundary line between land of C. A. Randlett and the land herein described; thence running easterly along land of said C. A. Randlett about one thousand six hundred and twenty-one (621) feet to other land of said C. A. Randlett; thence running southerly along said Randlett land and land of owners unknown about five hundred (500) feet to the highway leading from Lowell to Westford; thence running in a northwesterly direction along said highway and said road to North Chelmsford to the point of beginning. Being all and the same premises conveyed to the said Martin Saja by deed of Stanley Urbanek dated May 10, 1915 and recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 588, Page 204.

$100,000 GIFT IS ACCEPTED

City Council Accepts Bequest of the Late Freeman B. Shedd

Money Will Be Distributed Among Lowell Banks—Special Meeting

The $100,000 bequest of the late Freeman B. Shedd for the further improvement of Shedd playground, was accepted by the city council last evening at a special meeting called for this purpose. The council also voted that the money when received is to be equally distributed among the city's banks under the direction of the city treasurer.

A communication was received from the First National bank of Boston, fiscal agents for the city, requesting further information concerning the $100,000 emergency sewer loan order recently passed by the city. The wording of the order, according to this communication, is not sufficiently clear and it also stated that it might be necessary to request the order. Steps were taken by the council to have all information requested sent to the fiscal agents as quickly as possible so that the loan will be made without any further delay.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p. m. with Councilors Chroten, Hennessey, Lambert and McPadden absent.

Chief Arthur H. Brown of the Organized Reserves was introduced by President Gallagher and requested the council to sign up for Defense Day and review the parade Friday evening from city hall steps. Members of the council favored the request and will review the parade Friday evening.

President Gallagher read and the council unanimously approved the following resolution in connection with the Shedd bequest:

RESOLUTION.

Accepting the bequest of $100,000 under the will of Freeman B. Shedd, late of Lowell, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Lowell, as follows:

"That the bequest of $100,000 under the will of Freeman B. Shedd, late of Lowell, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, under item, 'to wit:'

"(c) To the City of Lowell, one hundred thousand dollars, to be used for the development of the Shedd playground, so-called, in said Lowell, according to the plan now in existence drawn by Frederick W. Bowditch, the same to be expended under the supervision of the said Bowditch or his successor or successors in business," he and the same is hereby accepted for the purpose and upon the conditions and terms herein named.

The mayor and city treasurer were then authorized by the council to sign a release from liability for the trustees of the Shedd estate.

After paying tribute to the memory of the man who gave Shedd park to the city and whose bequest of $100,000 for its development had just been thankfully received by the city, Councilor John W. Daly moved that the money of the bequest be received, be equally deposited in the Lowell banks under the direction of the city treasurer.

Councilor Stearns advocated the appointment of a commission of three or more men acquainted with financial matters to invest the money bequeathed the city so that at no time would it lose its individuality, as he said he believed had been the fate of the Thomas Nesmith fund for several years. The president and Councilor Daly both expressed the belief that such action should come after the money is received by the city and the council agreed.

The motion of Councilor Daly was seconded by Councilor Cosgrove and unanimously accepted.

President Gallagher read a communication from the First National bank of Boston, fiscal agents of the city, which requested further information concerning the $100,000 emergency sewer loan order, as the order does not state clearly the emergency. Several legal questions were raised bearing on the wording of the loan order and its preamble in which the emergency was outlined.

Councilor McPadden, who came into the chamber while the matter was under discussion, said that Boston attorneys of the fiscal agents evidently were not aware of the acuteness of the unemployment situation in this city and did not know that this was the emergency which prompted the passage of the loan order. The passage of the order and securing of the loan was being delayed too long, he said, and moved that the chairman of the public service board communicate with the fiscal agents and outline to them their part in the matter, and that the city solicitor answer regarding the legal phases. His motion was passed.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p. m.

LOCAL LIONS ENTERTAIN

First of Series of Inter-City Meetings Held in Liberty Hall of the Auditorium

Lions of Lowell last night roared a greeting to visiting brothers from several Merrimack valley cities and towns and a delegation from Boston at the first of a series of inter-city meetings to be held this winter. The get-together was held in Liberty hall, with about 150 members of the organization present to greet Melvin Jones of Chicago, secretary-general of the International Association of Lions, District Governor Dr. Charles W. Bruninghaus of Worcester, and visiting King Lions and their clubs. Clubs represented were those of Boston, Medford, Lowell, Lynn, Haverhill and Nashua and Manchester, N. H.

Dinner was served promptly at 6:30 o'clock and the Lowell Lions under the magnetic and forceful leadership of Horatius B. Leggat gave harmonious testimony to the allegation that they would rather sing than eat. Each course was punctuated and enhanced by tunes from the song book and good fellowship reigned supreme.

In fact good fellowship was the keynote of the meeting, sounded by each speaker and echoed by the gathering.

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, king lion of the Lowell club, was the presiding officer and presented the speakers. He introduced Dr. George S. Foster, king lion of the Manchester club; King Lion Walter F. Hill of Lynn, King Lion Harold D. Giddings of Boston, King Lion Alvin A. Fowler of Nashua, District Governor Bruninghaus, Secretary-General Jones and Organizer George Wood. With the exception of Mr. Jones, who was the principal speaker, all addresses were distinctly informal and brief and consisted mainly of the extension of greetings and cordial invitation to Lowell Lions to visit the out-of-town clubs represented.

Melvin Jones was greeted with a roar that tinkled the glasses on the tables. He spoke principally of the ideals of Lionism and touched upon the symbols of courage, strength, fidelity and loyalty which are paramount in the organization's code of ethics. He urged extension of the order wherever and whenever possible, but pleaded for clubs of real men rather than of numerical strength. He spoke of the hundreds of civic activities in which clubs in the United States and Canada are engaged and pointed out that last year more than 600 clubs actively took up naturalization work and conducted classes of instruction with splendid success.

Last night's meeting was but the forerunner of similar ones planned for the winter months, in which clubs in valley cities will unite to promote the general welfare of the organization.

FAIR WEATHER FOR WILLS-FIRPO FIGHT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—The wooden seats at Boyle's Thirty Acres, scene of tonight's heavyweight bout between Firpo and Wills received their first "rain" today.

Although the temperature was 46 at 7:15 a. m., the sun came out this forenoon and the weather bureau said the cold wave would be over before night, although forecasts would probably be in order. The skies were cloudless.

PEACE SESSION IS IMPOSSIBLE

No Conference as Long as Honduran Rebels Continue To Advance on San Pedro

American Charge d'Affaires Warns General Ferrera, Rebel Leader

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Advice from Honduras say the American charge d'affaires, Stokely W. Morgan, has informed the rebel leader, General Ferrera, that the holding of a peace conference is impossible as long as the rebels continue to advance on the city of San Pedro in Sula.

The rebels do not seem disposed to an immediate convention based upon loyal execution of the Amayala peace treaty, as they professed, Mr. Morgan is said to have added.

The American envoy also said he had received word from Washington to the effect that, if no settlement was reached between the warring factions in Honduras, the American government would feel compelled not to recognize any rebel government set up by General Ferrera or to extend it any sympathy or moral support.

In conclusion he appealed to General Ferrera to come to terms and negotiate a permanent peace.

Despatches emanating from rebel sources deny that the insurrectionists have been defeated in three battles, as claimed in a Honduran government message from Tegucigalpa. The rebels may be the so-called battles were nothing but skirmishes between reconnoitering parties.

HOLY NAME CONVENTION TO MAKE WAR MORE DEADLY

Societies in Local Catholic Churches Will Send Delegates to Washington

Holy Name societies in the various Catholic parishes of Lowell are making arrangements to send delegates to the big Holy Name convention in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 18-21. While only three of the parishes, the Sacred Heart, St. Michael's and St. Margaret's, have decided definitely to be represented, it is expected that others will declare themselves soon. Washington is preparing to handle 100,000 delegates from all parts of the country. The Lowell party will leave Sept. 17, joining the Bay State delegation in Boston.

REGISTRATION SESSIONS

Election Commission Chairman Announces Registration Session in All Wards

Registration session for persons desiring to vote in the November national and state elections and the city primaries will be held in all the wards, according to an announcement made today by Chairman Hugh C. McDuffee.

It has been the custom of the commission in years past to conduct registration sessions in some of the wards, but this is the first year that an attempt will be made to conduct sessions in each of the wards.

The first of the "outside" or ward sessions will be held Sept. 22 and the place and time will be announced later.

Beginning Sept. 15 and continuing to Oct. 16, persons desiring to register may do so at the office of the election commission. The hours of registration at the office are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

K. OF C. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

THE PHOEBE E. JOHNSON ESTATE AT JOHNSON'S CORNER, TINGE-RD., MASS., CONSISTING OF A TWO-STORY FRAME DWELLING, 1000 SQUARED ACRES AND ABOUT FOUR ACRES OF LAND, IS HEREBY PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDER AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION, ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13TH, 1924, AT THREE O'CLOCK P. M.

The house has seven rooms and a bath, is of two stories, has large open piazza in front and separate entrance on the side to the store and has a deep, well-lighted cellar. The lot has an extensive frontage on both Electric Road and on River Road, and a total area of over four acres. With this large lot area and the fact that the property is situated within a step of the Merrimack River and within short drive of Mountain Rock and Lakeview Park, it is an increased value as a development possibility.

In its present state, it could well be conducted as a poultry farm, as it is ideally situated, having a ready market from both Lowell and Nashua, and being well served by the Lowell and Nashua roads, and the Lowell and Nashua bridges.

For the man looking to buy a small estate with a few acres of land, together with the chance to conduct a variety store, this sale should especially appeal. The building requires a small outlay to finish the interior, the owner being desirous of selling the property in its present state.

The entire property is within one mile of the Tyngsborough bridge and the State boulevard.

TERMS: $500.00 cash must be deposited or secured with the auctioneers just as soon as property is struck off. Other terms and conditions at time of sale.

FOOTBALL COACH HAS BEEN RECOMMENDED

One of the best known football men in the east, an All-American lineman for two years while in college and at present living in Boston, has been recommended to the Lowell school committee by high school officials for appointment as assistant coach of football at the local school this season. It is expected that the committee will take favorable action on the recommendation this week and negotiations for securing the coach will be completed.

The man's name cannot be used at this time, but school officials believe he will be most valuable a consultation and of great assistance to Coach Linton in building up a representative eleven. Following his college career the man in question served as a college coach for two years and also played professional football with one of the leading teams in the country for three or four seasons.

SMITH WINS 6th DISTRICT PLACE

Three Towns—Invading Troops Are Said To Be
Rushing Up Reinforcements

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11 (By the Associated Press)—Desperate attempts of the Kiangsu general to check the advance of the Chekiang troops upon Ibing, a town about 100 miles to the westward of Shanghai, near Tai lake, took the bulk of interest in China's civil war away from the nearby battlefronts today.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press) Forces of rival military governors fighting for possession of Shanghai today directed their fiercest battling in the vicinity of Ibing, ninety miles west of Shanghai where the defending forces of the Chekiang governor captured three towns near Taihu Lake.

A communique from the Chekiang Lungkwa headquarters this morning said the invading Kiangsu troops were rushing up reinforcements to the Ibing front from Quinsan, 35 miles west of Shanghai.

The immediate objective of the Chekiang troops is Ibing, considered a key point to Chang Chow, on the line of the Shanghai-Nanking railway, from

LOWELL MAN FINED $600 AND SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS IN HOUSE OF CORRECTION

Raphael T. Palardy of 501 Wilder street, this city, former treasurer of the Notre Dame de Lourdes Credit union in Branch street, this noon was sentenced to serve two years in the house of correction and fined $600 after pleading guilty to a charge of larceny of about $15,000 from the union.

Palardy was arraigned before Judge Richard T. Irwin in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge for the purpose of retracting an original plea of not guilty, entered when first arraigned on Tuesday after a grand jury indictment had been returned against him. On the new plea of guilty, presented through his attorney, Arthur L. Egan, Palardy was sentenced and fined. Palardy disappeared from the city about two months ago when he failed to return home after a vacation period supposed to have been spent in Canada. The books of the Credit Union were examined and his accounts were found to be in such a condition as to justify the issuance of a warrant for his arrest. He later returned to Lowell and gave himself up to local police.

In the meantime, Joseph A. N. Chretien, city councilor, and well known French-American citizen, was elected treasurer of the bank and now is in full charge of its affairs.

Ferncroft Inn and Sunnyside
Listed for Trial

United States Commissioner Richard B. Walsh will resume hearings on liquor complaints at the local court house tomorrow after a summer vacation period of about six weeks.

Cases listed for trial also will necessitate sessions on four days next week and four the following week.

Marked for hearing tomorrow forenoon are five cases including complaints of illegal possession and sale against Ferncroft inn at Middleton and the Sunnyside tea room at Topsfield. William MacLaughlin, a clerk at Ferncroft, is named as a defendant in that case, and Katrina Winchester, alleged owner of the Sunnyside tea room, also will appear.

Another important case to be heard is in relation to the confiscation by federal enforcement agents of a large distilling plant in Bedford woods and the arrest of Benny Pickler of Cambridge, operator in charge. This seizure was made without a search warrant, but Commissioner Walsh said today there was nothing to prevent such action on the part of the agents inasmuch as the plant was not housed in a dwelling.

STREET CLEANING EXPERT ADVISES TRANSFER OF SPARROW MEN

Cleaners Now Engaged in Paved Streets Should Be Transferred to Unpaved Thoroughfares—Many Recommendations Submitted by H. S. R. McCurdy

Reorganization of the street cleaning department of the city and a reassignment of sparrow men is recommended by H. S. R. McCurdy, street cleaning expert who was hired by the city's local situation. In his report to the committee, a copy of which has been delivered to the board of public service.

Mr. McCurdy says that sparrow men now engaged in cleaning paved streets should be transferred to the main unpaved streets and the paved streets cleaned by mechanical sweepers.

The departments in charge of street cleaning and refuse disposal, he continues, should each have at its head a man responsible for results, reporting directly to the superintendent of streets. The duties of these men, he says, should be so defined that there

Shootings and Dynamitings Threatened Because of Life
Loeb Case—Prisoners Still in Chicago

The sheriff had the guards doubled in the alley at the rear of the jail yard. A crowd of about five hundred curious persons gathered outside the entrance to the jail, but police details kept them moving.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—After a night in which a new threat to blow up the county jail brought Sheriff Peter Hoffman speeding into Chicago at midnight, Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks, 14 years old, today awaited their removal to Joliet penitentiary. The 19-year-old youths, who confessed they killed "to get a thrill," amused themselves by playing cards pending the start for Joliet, which it appeared would not be before 3 or 4 p. m.

Sheriff Hoffman disclosed the latest threat, a repetition of many others made by Franks, he said.

It was about 11:30 p. m. when he received the anonymous telephone call telling him that the jail was to be blown up.

"I jumped into my car and came 50 miles an hour to the jail, arriving about midnight, just to make sure that nothing had happened," he said. "After a thorough inspection" everything appeared all right and I returned home."

Thereafter said he expected to start for Joliet between 2 and 3 p. m. with three automobiles in the official party, all guarded by heavily armed deputies. The advance car, he said, would be filled with officers armed with shotguns loaded with buckshot. In the second car Loeb and Leopold would ride with four armed guards. Another contingent of guards with buckshot-charged guns would bring up the rear.

Power to Pardon Slayers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11.—It is within the power of the governor to pardon Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., according to a statement made in the office of Governor Len Small today.

"The law permits the governor to pardon prisoners and he would be legally permitted to pardon Leopold and Loeb," G. D. Sutton, secretary to the governor, said. He was emphatic in declaring that the matter was not in any way under consideration.

Eternity of Manual Labor

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Liberty forfeited for the remainder of their lives, Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., waited in the Cook county jail today for completion of penitentiary commitment papers.

Saved from death on the gallows by only their immature years, the kidnappers-murderers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, will be rushed to the Joliet state prison immediately upon receipt by the sheriff of the documents necessary for their proper delivery at the penal institution. There, numbers replacing names and rigid discipline they, the Chicago slayers and luxurious 19 years, the youthful intellectuals will face an eternity of manual labor in expiation of their crime.

Sentenced to life imprisonment on the murder charge and to ninety-nine years each on the kidnapping count by Judge John R. Caverly yesterday amidst the most unusual scenes that the youth had witnessed in the Chicago court room. The youthful slayers, the Chicago millionaires' families still were the center of extraordinary precautions today.

Guard County Jail
Throughout the night four automobiles carrying rifle squads cruised closely about the old criminal court building and adjoining county jail. Stationed at intervals along the four blocks of streets bordering the connected buildings were uniformed policemen, and in front of the cell house Loeb and Leopold heavily armed guards relieved one another in groups of four all night.

The authorities felt that the danger to their charges had not been lessened by the passing of sentence, and scores of letters and telephone calls, threatening shootings and dynamitings, were received by the life sentence rather than a hanging decision by Judge Caverly. Great precautions were taken by the officers to prevent a bomb being placed or hurled.

Judge Caverly is enroute to an undesignated vacation spot in the east. He hopes that no effort be made to trace him, and said that he wanted rest after the arduous and weighty duties that befell him as the last effort of his term as chief justice of the criminal courts. Upon his return to Chicago Judge Caverly will assume a bench in the divorce courts.

The sentence, fixed, the judge said in his review of the case, because he did not want to make an addition to the record of only two minors hanged in Illinois, still was the subject today of wide discussion in all walks of life.

"Ain't Goin' to Rain No More"

Loeb and Leopold slept soundly all night and had to be awakened by guards at breakfast time.

"It's all over now," was all they didn't say in response to queries by

$50,000 RUM BOAT, TWO MEN AND 250 CASES OF WHISKEY SEIZED

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Two men, 250 cases of whiskey and the high powered motor launch Sagitta, valued by the police at $50,000, were taken off Morris canal near Communipaw, N. J., today by a marine police patrol of three launches. Two men fell overboard from the rum boat during the chase and were either drowned or escaped ashore. Shots were fired at the fleeing boat by the police. The craft was captured only after it had been rammed by one of the police launches engaged in the chase, which extended from the lower bay up the Hudson river.

ARRANGE FOR FALL AND WINTER ACTIVITIES

After a more or less quiet summer during which time outings and picnics were enjoyed by the members of the various clubs affiliated with the International Institute, activities for the fall-winter season have been resumed under the direction of the club workers, Miss Fern Giffen director.

An interesting season is planned by the various clubs which are meeting this week to arrange plans for the official opening next week.

The Pollyanna club, composed of junior girls, met today to discuss plans for the coming season. This evening at 6 o'clock the Wide Awake Girls, senior division, will meet, while at 7 o'clock the White Eagle club, composed of Polish girls, will meet to arrange their program. The Lucy Larcom club, junior girls, will gather tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock under the direction of Miss Helen Rule, volunteer worker. The Martha Washington club met yesterday and the members have an extensive program arranged for the coming season.

Next week will be devoted to registration and election of officers which will begin on Monday morning and continue through the week. Each club will elect its officers, and indications point to much competition in official circles, especially among the junior girls.

Among the crafts which will be taught at the Institute this season are embroidery, cooking, sewing and making of big-new toys and decorative articles. The Educational club of the Institute met today to finish up their work which was continued at home during the summer and it was planned to take up millinery this season, having accomplished much in basketry taught last season.

Gymnasium classes are also being planned by the enthusiastic workers at the Institute and junior gym classes to be held in the afternoon for the grade school girls and senior classes in the evening for the senior girls are being arranged. Basketball will also have its place on the program for the senior girls.

These classes will be held in the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium in John street.

Entertainments are to be many this season and the club members are most enthusiastic over the idea, still having fresh in their memory the great success scored last May when they presented "Midsummer Night" in Colonial hall.

PANELS OF VELVET

Chenille crepe, velvet and marabou make this gown what it is. The velvet panels are the unique features and contribute most to the unusual effect. These combinations of materials are seen very generally in the fall collections and they are a boon to the home dressmaker since they offer excellent opportunities for making over frocks. This outfit is carried out in brilliant red.

DEFENSE DAY EXERCISES IN THE SCHOOLS

Supl. Hugh J. Molloy has prepared a statement, to be read in Lowell schools at 10:30 tomorrow morning, explaining in detail the program calling for the participation of Lowell school children in the city's demonstration in observance of "National Defense Day." The superintendent says:

"On Friday, Sept. 13, will be observed throughout the United States the First National Defense day, a day which will bring together in an expression of loyalty to our country and its institutions several millions of men."

"National Defense day has two purposes. First, the observance of the day constitutes a test of the new system of defense which has been planned for this country in case of any emergency, such as that of 1917. The military units of defense, built up from the lessons learned in the World War, include the Regular Army, the National Guard, in the various cities and states, and above all else, the Reserve Corps which is the nucleus of this new system of national defense.

"Every one is more or less familiar with the Regular Army and the National Guard, but the third element, the Reserve Corps, is not so well understood."

"In brief, by the Defense act of 1920, the United States is divided into districts and a stated number of military companies has been allotted to each district. These companies are in any national emergency to be recruited from the citizens in the communities of the various districts. Ordinarily these units are maintained in skeleton form because, of course, there is no need of their being kept in peace time at full strength. On Defense day, however, it is planned to fill up these units for two or three hours by voluntary enlistments so as to test out at a certain hour all over the country how this system would work if it were to be carried out in an hour of necessity."

"In other words, throughout the United States several millions of citizens will be gathered together voluntarily helping out the government in its test of this great Defense act. This general mobilization suggests the second object of Defense day, because of the banding together of citizens of all ages, creeds and races, an opportunity is afforded for a great demonstration of loyalty to our country and laws."

"Each one of the several thousand citizens in Lowell who take part in this demonstration joins with millions of others throughout the country in publicly declaring, 'I love my country and will uphold it always, and will obey its laws and cherish its institutions.'"

None of others throughout the country in publicly declaring, 'I love my country and will uphold it always, and will obey its laws and cherish its institutions.'"

St. Peter's Cadets will participate in the "National Defense day" parade, tomorrow evening. The Cadets will meet at the school at 6 p. m. in preparation for the march to North common, where the street parade is to be formed. Every member of the Cadets is expected to be present. The drum corps will also report.

O'NEIL IS CHAIRMAN OF RENT COMMISSION

The rent commission, named by the mayor over a month ago at the request of the city council, organized yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room and named Attorney Cornelius J. O'Neill as its chairman. John J. Dwyer, chairman of the board of assessors, was named temporary secretary.

Present at the meeting were the following members of the commission: Attorney Cornelius J. O'Neill, John J. Dwyer, Supt. John Moynahan of the lands and buildings department, City Engineer Stephen Kearney, William Kiernan and Mrs. Hilda Benoit. The seventh member, Parker Murphy, of the trades and labor council, was out of town.

After calling the meeting to order at 4:45 o'clock, the mayor suggested the election of a chairman and on motion of Mr. Dwyer, Mr. O'Neill was unanimously chosen. Mr. Kearney moved the election of Mr. Dwyer as temporary secretary and his motion carried unanimously.

Upon taking over the chair Mr. O'Neill thanked the members of the commission for naming him as chairman and suggested that the first business before the commission was to find out from the city solicitor what its rights and powers were, before it undertook any matters in connection with the landlord or tenant. He asked for a motion to this effect from one of the members because, he said, the commission could not operate successfully unless it knew at the outset its rights and the limits of its powers. Mr. Moynahan made the motion requested by the chair and it received the favorable vote of every member present. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 4:55 o'clock to meet at the call of the chair.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. SAMUEL MURPHY, 219 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

U. S. SAILORS LAND AT HONDURAS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A landing force of 100 sailors from the light cruiser Rochester was put ashore yesterday at Ceiba, Honduras, and the ship is proceeding to Tela to act as a guard for the American consulate there.

A despatch announcing the landing was sent by Captain Hayne Ellis, commanding the Rochester, explaining that American and foreign lives had been threatened.

WEYLER LIKELY TO COME TO FRONT IN SPAIN

N. E. A. Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Hints continue to reach Washington of the im-

GENERAL WEYLER

minence of another governmental overturning in Spain and the suggestion is made that General Valeriano Weyler, who was governor general of

Cuba just before the Spanish-American war, is likely to come to the front.

General Weyler has a reputation in Spain altogether different from the one he always has borne in this country.

He is, as a matter of fact, a very strong-handed military man. He was given the job of restoring, or trying to restore, order in Cuba, and he went about it with all the energy there was in him.

America's sympathy was with the Cubans and his methods were violently resented here for that reason.

If American sympathies had been on the side of Spain, however, probably there would have been no criticism in him.

As he told the story afterward in Spain (where I talked with him once) he was in the position of a surgeon who had an operation to perform and he saw no sense in performing it gradually. The sooner it was over the better it would be for the patient.

In Spain the general always has been known as a liberal. That's what he is politically. He favors a competent government, but the reactionaries never have used him in fact, they never have used him except in desperate situations—such as Cuba and as captain general of Barcelona at a time when a revolt there threatened complete disruption of the country—where his services were called in as a last resort.

Among Spaniards he is spoken well of even by the ultra-radicals whom he fought successfully during the Barcelona uprising. He has, they say, a sense of justice and is a man of his word, besides being strictly honest.

Whether, if more trouble comes, the throne will topple is uncertain. Revolution has been simmering in Spain for years. All that has stayed off has been the personal popularity of King Alfonso. Or late he has lost much of it.

Colonel de Rivera, who threw out the civilian Spanish cabinet a year ago and established a military dictatorship, though he preserved the monarchy, represented the Spanish fascist—a reactionary. He lacked, however, the ability of the Italian fascist leader, Mussolini, and conditions have not improved under him.

One theory is that Alfonso himself is back of the movement in favor of Weyler, fearing a revolution in which he himself will be destroyed if the Rivera regime continues much longer.

If this guess is correct the idea simply is to eliminate de Rivera in favor of Weyler, with a view to saving the monarchy if possible. The only count against Weyler is that he is very old and probably will not live long.

REVERE LAND SOLD BY WALTER GUYETTE

Walter F. Guyette, local real estate dealer and auctioneer, yesterday sold at auction the George W. Fifield estate at the entrance to the Revere beach boulevard. There were six lots in the sale and they were purchased by Charles Rudinsky and Louis Rudinsky of Boston for approximately $26,000.

The purchasers are the proprietors of the Central Automobile Tire company, with stores in Boston, Lowell and other large cities, and also of the Enterprise building, this city. They did not make public their plans for development of the tract.

CHELMSFORD GRANGE AUTUMNAL FAIR

All records were broken for attendance at a Chelmsford grange autumnal fair, yesterday afternoon, when the members of the active fraternal society presented an exhibition of fruits, vegetables, flowers, home-cooked foods, and canned goods that proved a revelation because of its size and quality, as well as great variety of products.

"Put up to keep."

Tables were used to display attractive preserves and other sparkling exhibits in the home-canning field. Many articles were offered for sale. There was a food table, a household booth and a grab table.

Features of the annual fair were exhibits by boys' and girls' farm and garden clubs, Middlesex county extension service members directing. The refreshment booth installed at the entrance to the town hall, did a thrived business. Supper included baked beans, cold meats, salads, rolls, and coffee, served under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Whitcomb. A Lowell orchestra played, and the evening program was also featured by entertainers from Lowell and Chelmsford. Mrs. George Burns presented a group of songs and Miss Mildred Egan, in costume, appearing in fancy dances.

A SUSTAINING SWEET
A sustaining and pleasing sweet for ending meals or lunch is composed of a cupful each of raisins, dates, figs, prunes and shelled nuts. Put the nuts through a food chopper first, then mix with fruit and pass all through a chopper twice and press into cakes, wrapped in paraffin paper, and a delicate, wholesome sweet is made for the child.

"HOW DO YOU DO," MRS. YELLOWBILL DUCK," HE SAID

One day Mrs. Yellowbill Duck and her six children came to the shop of Nancy, Nick & company.

Nick was out delivering packages and Nancy was busy sewing a dress for the youngest woodchuck child who was just going to start to school.

So it was Mister Snip Snap who waited on her.

"How do you do, Mrs. Yellowbill Duck," he said. "How are you and your family today?"

"Oh, fair to middling, Mister Snip Snap," said Mrs. Duck. "Just fair to middling. I've come to think that crab meat isn't the best thing for us old folks. I really shouldn't touch it. It always makes my indigestion worse."

"Why, I wouldn't say that," said Mister Snip Snap politely. "The very idea of your calling yourself old. If you didn't have your family along, no one would guess you were even married."

"Oh, Mister Snip Snap!" said Mrs. Yellowbill. "You certainly do matter me. Why, I'm as old as the hills!"

But she was pleased just the same and went to the mirror and powdered her bill and pulled her hat straight and blinked her eyes fast to make them look brighter. "I was only going to buy Davy a school suit," she said, turning around to the fairymen again. "but now that I'm here, and everything is so pleasant, I may as well buy Dandelion one, too. They are both shabby."

"The very idea!" cried Mister Snip Snap in surprise. "The way you talk, Mrs. Yellowbill! Why, your children are the best dressed children in Meadow-Woods—Barnyard Land, or in Squeaky-Moo Land, either."

"Oh, do you think so, Mister Snip Snap?" exclaimed the duck lady, more pleased than ever. "Well, maybe they are. If I do say it, as I shouldn't, I try to keep them like little ladies and gentlemen. I don't like to see them shabby. Perhaps Dolly bought to have another new dress."

"Of course she should," said Mister Snip Snap. "Such a pretty child can't have too many dresses. You have such pretty children, Mrs. Yellowbill Duck."

"I always said you had good taste, Mister Snip Snap," declared Mrs. Yellowbill, more pleased than ever. "Daisy, I suppose if Dolly gets a new dress, you think you should have one, too, for the first day of school."

"Yes, ma," said Mrs. Duck. "I'll have a suit for each of the boys, and dresses for the girls. Mister Snip Snap, show me the very best you have."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE

All roads still lead to Loew's Rialto where "The White Sin" is playing to capacity houses. It seems that the Rialto is the mecca for all the low theatre-goers this week. "The White Sin" is a beautiful story of a little, innocent country girl who is tricked into a mock marriage by a rich idler, while on a cruise to the South Sea Islands. They are married by the ship's captain while they are out at sea. It later develops that the marriage was legal, due to the fact that it had been performed beyond the three-mile limit. See what happens when her husband is reported dead and she falls in love with his crippled brother, Buddy Roosevelt in "Rough Riding," a new and comedy are also included in the program.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Klein Bros., with their hodge-podge of comedies, are the leaders on the current week's bill at the R. F. Keith theatre. They come here direct from big New York shows. Stafford and Louise put forward an artistic dancing act, and Bob Murphy, with assistant, sings one of the best of comedy turns. Other acts are: Charles H. Horn & Co. in "The Automobile Broker," Louis London, singing character actor, and Tonin's monkeys. The week's picture is "Borrowed Husband."

MERRIMACK SQUARE

William Farnum's first screen vehicle in over a year, the Paramount production, "The Man Who Fights Alone," opened a three days engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre this afternoon. Lois Wilson and Edward Horton support the noted star. "The Man Who Fights Alone" is unusual in theme and gripping in story. The second feature of the current program is "The Lullaby," a dramatic production of rare excellence, with Jane Novak, celebrated as William S. Hart's leading woman, in the leading role. A Will Rogers comedy, "Two Wagoners—Both Covered," a satire on the Covered Wagon, is the third feature of this excellent bill. The International News completes the program.

For the entire week of Sept. 14, the management announces Rudolph Valentino in "Nouveau Beaucaire," his most successful production.

Latter Wanted Note "With Teeth," Bishop Reifsnider Says

TOKIO, Sept. 11.—The strong, frank tone of Ambassador Hanihara's immigration note to the American government, in which the term "grave consequences" was used, was due to the insistence of Secretary Hughes, who wanted a note "with teeth," Bishop Reifsnider said today in an address before the Tokio Rotary club.

STAGE ALL SET FOR K. OF C. JOINT OUTING

Arrangements were completed last night in Salem for the big joint outing of members of fourth degree, Knights of Columbus assemblies, of Lowell, Lynn, Salem, Beverly, Newburyport, Peabody and Manchester-by-the-Sea, which will be held on the spacious grounds of St. John's Prep school in Danvers next Sunday. The affair will be open for members and their lady friends and will mark the first joint outing in the history of the organizations concerned.

The local delegation will leave this city by auto at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, the autos forming in Middle street near the corner of Central. Sir Knight Andrew Molloy will be chief marshal of the auto parade. One of the big features of the day will be the dinner, which will be served in the commodious gymnasium of the Danvers school. There will also be a program of sports, and an entertainment later in the afternoon in the hall.

Every Russian will be taught to read and write in the future.

KEEP WASHBOWLS CLEAN

Mrs. Mann was an immaculate housekeeper, so there was little need to admonish her regarding cleanliness of washbowls.

But many people are careless and here lies a fertile field for germ passage and infection. Careful washing of bathtubs and bowls should not be neglected.

A little borax will keep a porcelain tub free from stains and discolorations while bathing, and when cleansing the tub or washbowl wring a cloth in kae suds and rub soap over this, sprinkling with borax.

Flannel dipped in paraffin makes a good rub for cleaning the enamel and a little gasoline on a woolen cloth can be used in removing dirt and at the same time leaving a polish.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly dizziness. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-narcotic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed towards building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to faint, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Portland, N. Y., if you mention this paper.—Adv.

NUXATED IRON

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., all as a result of iron starvation of the blood.

There are 30,000,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. Without iron your blood alone loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue, and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it and as a consequence you become greatly weakened both in body and mind.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two or three tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach, because it is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and not metallic iron which people usually take. Your money will be refunded if you are not satisfied. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

A Blessing for Old and Young Who Feel All Worn-Out

Thousands Are Finding Comfort and Relief in Just a Few Days—It Is Wonderful How Quick Nuxated Iron Does the Work

Nuxa-Tone brings back pep, punch and vigor to tired worn-out nerves and muscles. It builds red blood, strong, steady nerves and increases motion wonderfully. It refreshes, deep, good appetite and fine digestion, regular bowel movement, lots of enthusiasm and ambition. If you are not feeling just right you owe it to yourself to give Nuxa-Tone a trial. It costs you nothing if you are not benefited. Nuxa-Tone is pleasant to take and you will begin to feel better in a very few days. If your physician has not prescribed Nuxa-Tone for you just go to the druggist and get a bottle. Take it for just a few days and if you do not feel better and look better return the remainder to the druggist and he will give you your money back. The manufacturers know so well what Nuxa-Tone will do that they compel all druggists to guarantee it and refund your money when you are not satisfied. See guarantee on package. Recommended, guaranteed and for sale by all druggists.—Adv.

SCOUTS GIVE COMRADE ROUSING RECEPTION

As the smoke belching locomotive drawing the 5:30 o'clock train from Boston yesterday afternoon slowed down and finally came to a full stop, it was greeted with the deafening, cheering cheers of the most enthusiastic group of boys who had gathered to welcome home Eagle Scout Warren Vandenburg from his trip to Copenhagen, Denmark.

At the appearance of Scout Vandenburg he was pounced upon by his host of friends and borne to a waiting automobile where he was greeted by members of his family. Immediately the scouts fell into formation and the procession moved down Middlesex street to Scout Vandenburg's troop headquarters on Kirk street. There he was tendered an informal reception by his friends and associates.

Scout Vandenburg was one of the eight eagle scouts connected with the Lowell scout council who competed for the chance to accompany the American troop of boy scouts on their trip to the international boy scout jamboree held in Copenhagen. Young Vandenburg won the competition and late in July went to New York where he entered the final tests with boys from all over the United States. He was again successful and became a member of the troop of 57 boys who made the trip. After more than a month in Europe the Americans returned home on the S. S. Lancastria, which docked Monday morning in New York. The boys were banqueted and feted in the city of New York until Tuesday when they were discharged and scattered to all parts of the country.

The welcome of the Lowell scouts was a complete surprise to Scout Vandenburg. Plans for the welcome were in the hands of a reception committee consisting of Dr. John H. Lambert, president of the Lowell Boy Scout council; Albert Thurston, scout commissioner; Edwin J. Mellin, scout executive; Charles W. Barton, field scout executive; Reuben White, scoutmaster of Troop 10, Vandenburg's troop. It was intended to meet young Vandenburg with the high school regiment and band, but because of the fact that high school was not in session yesterday the members of the regiment could not be notified.

ing close to the curb. Then, also, the process of sweeping, even though these machines are equipped with spraying devices, is always accompanied by more or less dust, which is objectionable to pedestrians. As the machines are provided with headlights and side lights, no difficulty is encountered in operating at night.

Amazing "Sparrow Men"

With the exception of half a dozen whittlings to supplement the motor sweepers on paved streets, the 34 white wings or "sparrow men," at present operating on the streets swept by sweepers, are superfluous. They should, in the opinion of Mr. McCurdy, be used on unpaved streets as recommended by the superintendent of streets last May. Not all at present employed would be necessary and those not necessary could be assigned to street and sewer gangs. In cleaning macadam streets and unpaved streets, or on a wet day, it is suggested that sewer and street men be transferred temporarily to the street cleaning department.

To alleviate the dust nuisance, Mr. McCurdy suggests that light oil and calcium chloride be used rather than water, and favors chloride for level streets as the most efficient binder. It costs about twice as much as light oil, he says, but there is nothing to take the place of the chloride "on the right kind of road."

Snow Removal

Mr. McCurdy suggests the purchase of a 5-ton tractor with snow plow attachment to supplement the city's present snow removal equipment. The cost of the outfit would be $4200 for the tractor and $1050 for the plow, and the tractor could be used to advantage during the summer months on road work.

In regard to the organization of street cleaning, Mr. McCurdy reports as follows:

Importance of Organization

Finally a word as to organization. Systems will not run themselves. The best laid plans are not effective unless carried out with a conscience. The major operations affecting the cleanliness of the streets, namely, street cleaning and refuse disposal, should each have at its head a man responsible for results, reporting directly to the superintendent of streets. Call him foreman, inspector or what you will, he should be a man thoroughly conversant with his job and should hold that job only by reason of getting results. There should be sufficient help to cover the territory in a satisfactory manner and duties so defined that there will be no opportunity for "passing the buck."

In the connection with his study of the problem of cleaner streets for the city of Lowell, Mr. McCurdy desires to acknowledge his appreciation of the cheerful co-operation and assistance he has received at all times from Mr. Dennis J. Murphy, chairman, board of public service, and from Mr. Henry D. Davis, superintendent of streets and sewers.

Fierce Battling 90 Miles From Shanghai

which point the Chekiang forces hope to start a rear attack on the Kiangsu troops now attacking Shanghai.

The movement of troops from Quinsan to the Hsiao section might be interpreted as a move indicating that the fighting has been carried to territory held by the invaders.

The Chekiang headquarters asserted that mutiny had broken out among the Kiangsu forces, but this report was unconfirmed. The Chekiang forces are not attempting further advances in the Lihoo sector; the official announcement said.

Lu Hsing-Hsiang, commander-in-chief of the Chekiang forces, was on a secret visit to Shanghai today and planned to visit the battle fronts.

Fighting has been halted on the Hwangtu and Lihoo sectors due to rain and the weather indicates another downpour is in prospect.

There was some concern today in official quarters at Shanghai over the presence of thousands of refugees from the fighting area. The activities of supposed spies operating against the defenders is being investigated.

Likewise the report of the interruption of the Peking-Mukden railroad is denied.

Nothing has occurred so far as ascertainable to change the condition of armed neutrality on the part of Manchuria.

Japan Not to Intervene

TOKYO, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—Japan has no intention of intervening in the domestic difficulties of China, Baron Kijuro Shidehara, the foreign minister, told the Associated Press today when he said that the Japanese government's policy in regard to the present civil war in China.

The baron declined to comment further, asserting that his reply covered all the questions asked, including Japan's position in Manchuria, respecting General Chang Tso-Lin, and the South Manchurian railway.

Although Japanese despatches from Mukden state that Chang Tso-Lin is marching four brigades in the direction of Jehol, in northern China, the most informed Tokyo official opinion is that major hostilities on the Chihli-Manchurian front, amounting to a final showdown between Chang and General Wu Pei-Fu are not likely to occur at present.

The lateness of the season, the recent floods and financial difficulties on both sides are cited to substantiate this view.

Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister, also offered to the Associated Press charge d'affaires, conferred today regarding the situation in China.

Big Force in Manchuria

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11 (by the Associated Press).—The total forces now in Manchuria comprise three divisions, 21 brigades and four cavalry brigades, according to Japanese sources.

COLLEGE-DAY CARAVAN

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The College-Day caravan, which rested in this city last night on its way west from Plymouth, Vt., home of President Coolidge, was expected to take the road here this morning bound for Schenectady, Amsterdam, Utica and western New York. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and others who spoke at a republican rally here last night after the caravan's arrival were to accompany the party.

Big Fair at Golden Cove Park

hand early to handle the checking in and packing of exhibits. Members and friends of the driving club came from many miles around to display garden and farm products. The exhibits installed in the tents and the outside enclosures, including the club building erected last year, covered a vast listing poultry of many fancy breeds, cattle, swine, goats, sheep, ponies. The largest tent covered the poultry booths, which were filled early in the day.

Among the largest poultry exhibits were Clark M. Chrysler and Ernest Matile of Detroit, and Albert J. Ford of Tyngsboro. There are striking displays of registered strain Rhode Island Reds, white Leghorns, buff rocks, black Cochins, Chinas, Columbian Wyandottes, Orpingtons, White Rocks, Black Minorcas, Brahmas, white and red, Anconas and barred Rocks.

The floral exhibition will be the best ever conducted in this section of the state. Will Rounds, the first street florist, has charge of the exhibit and is showing an amazing variety of the famous Rounds gladioli and dahlias. The tables are filled with the wonderful, large varieties that gladioli connoisseurs prize so well. The collection, which takes up a large part of the exhibition tent, includes the Mt. Shasta, Hort. Flat, golden dahlias, the Hardy Sunflower, "Fountain of Beauty" and the smaller Pompon dahlias, among scores of other floral selections.

Pony Circus for Children

"There is a pony circus on hand for the children, with four Shetlands and also three riding goats. The pony track is across the way from the stables and is in charge of J. W. Graves of Belknap."

The first entrant in the goat class to arrive this morning was a big white animal, part Toggenberg strain, lively, friendly and the property of Charles R. Dana, of Evergreen street, Chelmsford.

Ample arrangements have been made to provide refreshments for fair visitors. Harvey, the caterer, has installed a large tent on the grounds not far from the race track grandstand, and is to serve meals all day, with regular dinners.

The automobile show, installed in a large tent on the other side of the field, has exhibits from many Lowell sales marts, proprietors glad to be allowed to provide exhibits of the latest models and some of the 1925 offerings. Tractors are also displayed in one section of the automobile tent.

The Middlesex county extension service is in charge of the children's canning exhibits, which are on display in large varieties this year in the main tent. C. G. Tillson, agent of the farm bureau, arrived early in the day, accompanied by Miss Fena Bishop, who will be the judge of the children's canning contest. G. E. Erickson, also of the farm bureau forces, will handle the exhibit from the boys' and girls' gardens. This will be a feature of the three days' fair, also. Mr. Tillson will judge poultry.

Horse Races This Afternoon

Chelmsford brass band gave its first concert of the show this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the first of the three-day races on the Cove half-mile track were scheduled to start. Today there were three fast classes listed—the 212, in which three Lowell horses were entered, Lassie Pointer and Maxwell, owned by L. E. Walton, and Marquis, owned by Ernest Dodge.

The 221 class has eight horses entered, including Barcelona, owned by David Bruce of this city. Other horses include Treverbyn, Lady Ananias, Dewey Volo, Countess Pretreau, Fair Maiden, Allie Delmar and Don Marquis.

The other event today was the 240 class. This event has four local horses entered. They are Mary V. Semba, John Potter and Aquilla D. Out-of-town horses in this race are Minnie Forbes, Golden Sheaf, Landlight, Mahana, Todd and Barcelona.

The officials of the Lowell driving club handling this year's fair and exposition are: President Oscar Dewell; secretary, Frank E. MacLean; treasurer, Thomas H. Braden; grounds supervisor, Abel Robertson; vegetable and fruit exhibits, Edwin Wilcomb; Chelmsford; canning exhibits, Marie McPherson; flowers, Will Rounds; cattle, Arthur W. Colburn; horses, Lewis A. Clark; poultry, Perley M. Kipball.

There will be two racing cards tomorrow, with an additional running race with expert jockeys up. Also, a parade of fancy saddle horses. Mr. Braden will act as starter of the races each day.

Special state motorcycle policemen are on duty at Golden Cove daily to assist Lowell and Chelmsford police. They are C. L. Callahan, William Collier and J. P. Sullivan, and are detailed from the Lake Walden, Concord, state police department district station. The detail of policemen from the Lowell department are as follows: Patrolman C. F. Donovan, Chief E. Garity and Frank Donovan. Chief Fred Vinat of the Chelmsford police department, commands the police detachment.

Dog Show Saturday

The dog show will be held on Saturday, under the supervision of William H. Rhy, president of Lowell Kennel club. It promises to be one of the best shows ever held in Lowell. There will be $100 in special prizes. Every member of the bench show committee has offered a special prize.

Lawrence, Boston and Beverly will have canines on the driving club show's benches.

The Boston show will have their regular weight classes. There will be four classes for puppies in all breeds up to six months, three to six months, six to twelve months. The regular classes for all breeds will be, novice limit, open, American breed and breed by exhibitors.

The personnel of the bench show committee is as follows: William H. Rhy, chairman; Joseph Foley, Arthur Miner, Ralph Armbrage, John MacKenzie, Wm. Bell, Fred Bassett, Geo. Camp, James Kirkpatrick, John Thomas, John Robbins, Leon Mullin, Mrs. Lechance, Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, Ralph Bell and John Davis. Anybody wishing any information regarding the dog show call or see Joseph Foley at Ricard's jewelry store in Central street.

JUDGE CAVERLY'S DECISION

Judge Caverly of Chicago has failed to impose the death penalty upon the murderers of the Franks boy, despite the heinous character of the crime and the antecedent crimes of kidnapping and attempted extortion.

This is a serious blow to the cause of justice throughout the land. The fact that the murderers are still under 21 years of age was the one reason offered by the court as an excuse for his refusal to impose the death penalty. The sentence has brought very general condemnation upon Judge Caverly who, with this decision, retires from the criminal court, and it may be said that neither the bench nor the cause of justice and right will have any reason to regret his going.

During the trial, one of the defendants referred to him as "a friendly judge" and before the sentence was pronounced one of the prisoners offered to bet that the decision would not bring the death penalty.

All during the hearing it was evident that the judge was friendly disposed to the prisoners. This was particularly so in one of the published pictures in connection with the early investigations, showing the judge and one of the prisoners side by side and the judge smiling as if enjoying the companionship of the prisoner.

The effect of this decision, we regret to say, cannot fail to offer encouragement especially to younger criminals throughout the land; and the number unfortunately is already alarmingly great.

The inference in some quarters will be, that these boys "were too rich to hang." That statement was freely made during the hearing and the decision of the court gives color and plausibility to that charge although we believe the fault, if any, rests with Judge Caverly. It is no wonder that Chicago leads the world in the number of cases of murder and manslaughter for a city of its size.

COOLIDGE CRUSADERS

Crusading for Coolidge in a motor caravan is a rather novel feature to be injected into the present campaign. A corps of speakers, well known politicians and eloquent no doubt, are engaged for the caravan tour from Plymouth Notch, Vt., to the Pacific coast. With ample advertising the progress of this motor party will be duly announced in advance and at each city the adherents of the Coolidge cause will provide a suitable reception and an audience to hear the speakers.

This is all very fine. The plan is something similar to that adopted by the small traveling circus; but in this case there is no admission charged to the show.

On the first day of the tour, the speakers gave an inkling of what they intend to keep shouting all along the route to the coast. It is the slogan devised by Col. Harvey, "Coolidge or Chaos," and this party of campaigners can be relied upon to spread the calamity howl as widely and loudly as possible along the route.

They raise the bogey of the election of president being thrown into Congress and the radicals electing Gov. Bryan as president. But that is merely a ruse by which they hope to bolster up a lost cause and avert defeat as it is figured by the leaders that Coolidge will fall 45 votes short of election.

Col. Harvey figured that Davis would come within 25 votes of the number necessary to elect. Therefore, it is reasonable to assume that the safest and best way to avert the possibility, if such there be, of the chaos predicted by Harvey and shouted from the house tops by republican campaigners, is to support Davis and land him in the White House.

Republicans attempt to belittle the Davis campaign but it is making effective inroads upon the republican preserves. There is certainly no apathy in democratic circles. In New York city on Tuesday night the active campaign for Davis and Bryan was opened with no fewer than 35 great rallies and Governor Smith has not yet started on his tour of the country. Wherever Mr. Davis goes he wins popular favor by his clear, truthful and logical presentation of conditions, the cause of the business depression and the remedy.

The calamity shouters who are opposing him are responsible for the depressed conditions which prevail throughout the country today although President Coolidge says, we are prosperous. The remedy for the present industrial and other ills, lies in the election of the democratic party. This will put an end to the mismanagement of the government, the corruption and rascality that ruled at Washington under the republican administration.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN

Now that the primaries are over and all nominations made, the stage is set for the campaign in this state for governor and other state officials as well as for United States senator and congressmen.

While most people are not surprised at the victory of Lieut. Gov. Fuller over Mr. Jackson, his opponent, the friends of the latter are understood to be very much disappointed over his defeat. They made a hard fight and lost, and in some instances it was not a fair fight. The whispering campaign conducted against Mr. Fuller very evidently did not have any serious effect. The voters are becoming wary of statements that cannot be made openly and in public just as any organization is regarded with suspicion if its members are afraid to acknowledge their connection with it and are satisfied to go about their work of camouflage in secret. To the credit of the lieutenant governor, it can be said that he struck no foul blows in his anti-primary campaign and that he defeated his opponent by fair and honorable methods.

The contest now lies between Mayor Curley of Boston, the democratic nominee for governor, and Mr. Fuller, Mr. Curley is an able speaker and a tireless campaigner, who is widely known throughout the state. He is sure to make a vigorous fight for election.

But even of greater interest will be the contest for United States senator between Hon. David I. Walsh and Speaker Gillett who has been nominated as the candidate favored by President Coolidge.

Previous to the primaries, word went

Call to Battle

Little Lester visited an old lady recently, who in commenting upon his likeness to his father, said: "Well, you are a full-blooded Jones, and no mistake," "Mama," exclaimed Lester on his return home, "what do you think! Mrs. Smith called me a bloody Jones!"—Baltimore Sun.

Careless Tailor

The young wife sat plying her needle. A coat of her husband's was in her lap. As the husband appeared, she said, fretfully: "It's too bad, the careless way the tailor sewed this button on. This is the fifth time I've had to put it back for you!"—Pearson's Weekly.

No Such Stock

"Algernon is very interesting," said Mr. Crumcor's daughter. "What does he talk about?" Inquired her father. "Why, he's over so well posted on Shakespearean quotations," "Young woman," said Mr. Crumcor, "don't let him deceive you. Don't you let him make sport of your ignorance. There ain't no such stock on the market!"

Impossible Demand

"But," objected Mr. Sparker, when the young man had made known his wish to marry Miss Sparker, "you have never shown that you are capable of supporting a wife." The young man seemed thoughtful, but was quick with his answer. "If, sir," he added, "you want her to marry a widower, I must confess that I can't qualify!"—Farm Life.

Worse Than Foolish

Thomas was not a prime favorite with his rich uncle. In said did he try to impress him, but the old man was not easily impressed. One evening the young man went to his uncle's home for a call, and in the course of conversation asked: "Uncle, don't you think it would be rather foolish for me to marry a girl who was intellectually my inferior?" "Worse than foolish, Thomas," was the reply. "Worse than foolish—impossible!"

In the Mud

One rainy evening a tourist in Central Arkansas stopped at the Smithville garage to inquire about the condition of the road to Pukton, which was not hard-surfaced. "Couldn't say," drawled the garage man in response to the stranger's question. "Do you know anybody who might know about it?" asked the tourist. "There's a fellow that works here what would," answered the native after a brief pause. "Can I see him?" "Well, replied the garage man, slowly, "you'll have to wait a while. He got stuck in the mud on that road this morning and he's out yet!"—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Not For Jacques

Jacques had not been over from France very long and did not know the language very well, so when he wanted to know the meaning of a word he went to his friend Hodges. One day he asked: "What is him a pole bear?" "You mean a polar bear, don't you?" "I will not be humiliated by an animal that lives on the ice and eats fish!" "I will not be humiliated by a bear!" cried Jacques, excitedly. "My dear fellow," said Hodges, "no one wants you to be a polar bear." "But, yes, monsieur," answered Jacques, "my man next door he die and ze neighbors say I be pole bear. But live on ice and eat fish—nevaire!"

A Little While

The darkest hour of the winter sends a man never quench or cloud the That summer days, like smiling friends, Are hastening hither, favor-fraught, That, howsoever the snow may drift, On windy mountain, moor and fen, A little while the flowers will lift Their faces to the light again.

A little while—a little while! What comfort in the thought we find When life itself has ceased to smile, When all the world has proved unkind!

A little while of grief and gloom, A little while of sorrow's sting, And then—the fadeless flowers that bloom For us in some eternal spring!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"All New England Week," Sept. 15-20, is near at hand. Active local campaigners in the cause of renewed prosperity are redoubting their efforts to record Lowell in first place: Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston, familiar of old to many Lowell citizens, is now in charge of one branch of the campaign to boost "All New England Week" and the purchasing of New-England-made goods. The Fitzgerald program calls for the statewide promotion of a drive to secure 1,000,000 members of the New England week committee in 10 days.

Lowell business boosters have been asked to help, and Lowell chamber of commerce members have been given full information concerning the new program instituted to keep alive and push along the campaign to bring prosperity back to New England's every section where the wheels of industry are not running as smoothly or as regularly as before. The committee, headed by former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, hopes to bring the contest into an avalanche of prizes and new members. The prizes offered by the committee will be awarded as follows: First prizes to the man or woman, and boy or girl under 18, who obtains the greatest number of new members in cities and towns of more than 2000 population; and the man, woman or child who obtains the most number of members in towns with less than 2000 population. The eight second prizes will be awarded under the same program to those obtaining the second highest number of new members. The conditions of the contest can be obtained by addressing "The Million New Members Committee," 412 New Chamber of Commerce building, 89 Federal street, Boston. There are pledge cards and buttons prepared for all entrants in the prize contests. There are eight first prizes, each consisting of $100 worth of New-England-made goods.

W. R. Green, speaker before the Lowell Ad club at its regular meeting yesterday, gave one of the most entertaining talks on business and the romance attached thereto that I have ever heard. Speaking of the successful business man, Mr. Green said that the man who is ruled by his pay envelope is the man who will never achieve success. "The three prerogatives of successful business," said the speaker, "are product, personality and service." Product, that which satisfies legitimately human want; personality, the ability to be cheerful on the job every day, and service, the final stepping stone to success. Get away from provincialism and the dollar and cents psychology, look for romance and thereby attain success.

Objecting to being held up by a grocer named Frank Smith, gave chase to a robber in Danville, Ill. He collapsed, however, after several shots had been fired at him and when he found he was apparently covered with blood. At the hospital surgeons found that the dropping of his clothing was not blood but soda fountain syrup from a bottle shattered by one of the shots. It was further found that the man was not struck by any of the bullets, although on seeing what he supposed was blood on his clothing, he thought that he had been hit. This was an illustration of the power of imagination.

In connection with the rescue of a man overcome by smoke in a Willie street lodging house yesterday, it has come to my attention that Captain Joseph L. Crowe of the fire department was the man responsible for the hero act. In company with members of his detachment, Capt. Crowe braved dense volumes of smoke to reach the bedside of the man who was unconscious through smoke inhalation. Captain Crowe and his assistants rushed him to an airy hallway and revived him.

WILL RECRUIT COMPANY TO FULL STRENGTH

Lieut. I. E. Park, C. A. Officers Reserve Corps, has been assigned by headquarters, First Corps Area, as commanding officer of the 543rd Co., C. A. Organized Reserves, and directed to recruit that company up to full strength for National Defense Day.

LIEUT. I. E. PARK

There are now thirty-seven enlisted men in that company and one hundred civilians have been enrolled for the day. Lieut. Hugh S. Rogers, O.R.C., second in command of the company, who is an employee at the State Infirmary, Tewksbury, or First Sgt. Neal, 403 Central street, Lowell, will be glad to give any information that may be desired to those interested in that day's observance.

Lieut. Park will be at headquarters of the Citizens' committee, in the Couriers-Citizens' old office building, in Merrimack street, most of the time Friday, Sept. 12, where he will be pleased to meet old friends or any others who may desire to enroll with him or with any other unit for that day.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY PLANS BIG FAIR

Products of Lowell industries as well as home gardens will be exhibited at the coming Middlesex North Agricultural society fair, on Sept. 17 and 18, in Memorial Auditorium. If the fair promoters' plans for extra feature displays in home products succeed.

The proposed exhibition of Lowell-made merchandise of every kind would represent the city's observance of "All New England Week," during which time the Agricultural society gives its annual show.

The society officials have been assured by the chamber of commerce that the latter organization will cooperate with the movement. Corridors around the main Auditorium will be devoted to booths, where manufacturers of the city may place exhibits. The suggestion has caught the fancy of many business men, who have already engaged space in the corridors.

Any manufacturer who desires to exhibit home products and wants ample booth space, may secure positions by applying to Secretary-Manager George E. Wells of the chamber of commerce; George H. Upton, George Trull of North Tewksbury, John A. Weinbeck and Charles T. Upton of Lowell; John Foster, Fred Tuttle, Francis Trull or E. E. Dickinson of Billerica; Arthur Colburn, Miss Gertrude Fox and James J. McManis of Dracut and Mrs. Wright of Westford.

It is planned to present some form of good entertainment during the course of the two days' fair in the Auditorium. The exhibits of vegetables, fruits, flowers and New England-made products, as well as Lowell-made

Thy voice, benign enchantress, let me hear; Say that for me some pleasures yet shall bloom. That Fancy's radiance, Friendship's precious tear, Shall soften, or shall chase, misfortune's gloom. But come not glowing in the dazzling ray Which once with dear illusions charm'd my eye. Oh, strew no more, sweet flatterer, on my way. SWEET SIXTEEN

She's merely a nymph of the modern day, and she fits through space like a streak. No worry or fret interferes with play, for she's carefree, at best, so to speak.

Lo, many a dainty small slipper she wears till the soles are shiny and through. She slips on the slippers, and puts on so airs as she's dancing a fox-trot or two.

The flimsy-like dresses are favorites of hers, and she makes them appear at their best. Whenever a party or dance occurs you'll find her quite fashionably dressed.

A bow in her hair that is shingle-bobbed neat, adds its touch to the spirit of joy. A picture that artists would figure a true self-confident, cheerful and coy.

And who is this nymph who is bubbling in youth; of care-free living the queen? She's only a modern young lady, in true America's child—Sweet Sixteen!

HALLETT'S ORCHESTRA AT THE COMMODORE

Mal Hallett and his celebrated orchestra will be the attraction at the Commodore hall room this evening. Mal and his team have been attracting large crowds at this resort and the brand of music furnished by this organization is sure to please the dance fans of this city. All the latest and up-to-date hits are played and a pleasant evening is always assured when Hallett and his troupe appear at this hall. The admission this evening is 10 cents.

There will be check dancing Friday and Saturday evenings with Minnie Doyle's orchestra in the pit.

Y.M.C.A. EXHIBIT

An interesting exhibit displaying the work of the Y.M.C.A. in New England will be open to the public during New England week, which begins Sept. 15, at the Y.M.C.A. building. The exhibit will consist of pictures, printed material and programs showing the work of the organization in various parts of New England. These exhibits will be mounted and framed for the citizens of Lowell to view. The work is in the hands of M. E. Farnum, social secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

He will enter Columbia with the second year professional class.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Breakfast—Grapes, uncooked cereal, creamed bacon, on toast, baked potato puffs, coffee, milk.

Luncheon—Vegetable soup, toast sticks, rice pudding, tea, milk.

Dinner—Steamed haddock, creamed potatoes, green beans, pear salad, whole wheat bread, butter, junket ice cream, lady fingers, milk, coffee.

The pear salad for the four-year-old child should be simplified or omitted. The grapes should be seeded and the skins removed.

Creamed Bacon on Toast

Six thin slices bacon, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, few grains pepper. Broil bacon until crisp. Remove from broiler and keep hot. Put 2 tablespoons bacon fat in frying pan, add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk, slowly, stirring constantly. Season with pepper and add bacon broken into bits. Pour over hot toast and serve with broiled tomatoes to grown-ups or children of school age.

Broiled Tomatoes

Wash solid tomatoes but do not peel. Cut in half-inch slices. Dip in hot bacon fat and broil over a clear fire or under gas broiler. Brown first on one side and then on the other.

The child who carries his luncheon to school must eat a hearty, unhurried breakfast. No matter how hearty an evening meal is, the morning meal is the one that must see the child through the school hours. A protein food to build and repair tissues, fat and carbohydrate to produce quick energy and heat and the very necessary mineral salts and vitamins, must be included in his breakfast.

Baked Potato Puffs

Two cups mashed potato, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup hot milk, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper.

Boil potatoes in their "jackets." Remove skins and mash. Season with salt, pepper, butter and milk. Beat well. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Beat into mashed potato. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into potato mixture. Drop by spoonfuls onto a buttered dripping pan and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

Toast Sticks

TRAFFIC DELAYED
BY DERAILED CAR

A Billerica Center-bound electric car which left the transfer station here at 5:07 o'clock last evening jumped the rails at the corner of Gorham and Cusgrove streets at 5:25 and partially tied up traffic for about half an hour. Supt. Thomas Sayers believes that the accident was due to the displacement by the rain of the temporary cross-over and switch. Upper Gorham street is at the present time under construction and only one side of the street and one set of rails are open for use. At the corner of Cusgrove street it is necessary that street cars and other traffic swing across the road to avoid further repair work. For this reason a temporary cross-over has been constructed by the railway company. When the car of which Operator D. Filmeau was in charge was on the cross-over and blocking the traveled way it left the tracks. Passengers of other cars were forced to transfer around the point from 5:25 until 6 o'clock.

AMERICANS SEEK TO RESIST EFFORTS OF AUSTRALIANS TO TAKE CUP

United States Begins New Chapter in Lawn Tennis History—Breaks Up Successful Combination of Last Four Years—Richards Supplants Veteran Johnson

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—America begins today a new chapter in its lawn tennis history, when, with the breaking up of its successful combination of the last four years, it seeks to resist the efforts of the challenging Australians to carry away the Davis cup, symbol of international team supremacy.

Tennis experts gathered from all sections of the country at the Germantown Cricket club when the two singles matches opening the challenge round will be played this afternoon, regard the supplanting in the singles of William M. Johnston of California, the veteran team mate of William T. Tilden, 2d, national champion, by the youthful Vincent Richards of New York, not merely as the result of the outcome of this year's play but also as a bit of forebodingness. The experts, pointing to Richards' playing record, including victories in the Olympic singles and doubles, a triumph in the national in the east-west matches and a five-set battle with Tilden, and emphasizing the difference of about ten years in his age and that of Tilden and Johnston, seemed to see the beginning of the setting up of America's future machinery for defense of the famous Davis trophy.

This will be the eighth time that Australia and the United States have met in the Davis cup challenge round since the trophy was donated by Dwight F. Davis, in 1900, Australia winning four times and America three.

Gerald L. Patterson, captain of the Australian team, and Pat O'Hara Wood will play in both the singles and doubles for the challengers. In the singles today Patterson meets Tilden at 3:30 p. m. in the opening match while O'Hara Wood and Richards meet at the conclusion of this contest.

Four singles and one doubles match will be played, the cup going to the winner of three contests. The doubles in which Tilden and Johnston will meet Patterson and O'Hara Wood, will be played tomorrow, and the other two singles on Saturday. Five matches will be played regardless of whether either team wins three straight. George W. Wightman will be the referee.

America has successfully defended the coveted prize since it was recaptured from Australia in 1920, twice against Australia and once against Japan. In all this country has won the cup seven times and Australia six.

LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS IN NEW YORK NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A decision as to the extent Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, will stump the country before election day, probably will not be reached until after he opens his campaign with a speech in New York city next week.

Various engagements which would take the candidate into nearly every section are under consideration but thus far he and his managers have not determined upon any routings and it was indicated today that the campaign would be permitted to progress a bit further before a definite speaking schedule is laid out.

After his address in Madison Square garden to be delivered a week from tonight, Senator La Follette expects to return to Washington. He will remain here, according to present indications, at least a week, perhaps longer, before making additional addresses.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

The first game in the post-season series between the Lowell Americans and the Pawtucket A.A. will be staged on the South common at 8 o'clock sharp this evening. All players are requested to report at 5:45 o'clock. The series will be declared over when one of the teams takes a purse of $100. The second game will be played on the common Friday night.

The big Saturday attraction in this vicinity will be the battle at Alumni field (formerly Spaulding park) between the Bellevue and the Lowell Twilight League champions, respectively. The first encounter of a week ago, the C.M.A.C. captured the honor with a 6 to 4 win, giving Smasher Trask his first defeat of the season. Much interest has developed in the series since the last engagement, and the management looks for a large delegation of fans at Alumni field. As far as is known, there is no other big-time contest in the city this day. Trask and Tardiff will probably pitch, and much money has been wagered on the outcome.

Bill Dudley, for the past several years one of Centralville's foremost sport promoters, will be interested in the welfare of the Pawtucket football team this year. He announces that a practice session for all candidates will be held on the Lakeview avenue grounds at 7 o'clock this evening and is desirous of communicating with last year's veterans and new aspirants for positions. Dudley predicts that the Pawtucket team will have one of the strongest elevens in the city this fall and is now busy preparing a schedule of games.

The second annual banquet of the City Twilight League will be held in Marie's restaurant next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets have been distributed among the various players and their friends, and it is expected that about 200 sport enthusiasts will be in attendance. T. P. McSorley, president of the league, will be toastmaster. The major members of the city council, the park commission and others have been invited as special guests. The City League pennant was won by the Bellevue, managed by Tom Fleming, who credit had 11 wins to his credit and only one defeat. Despite his reverse in Boston Tuesday night, Wee Willie Wood is confident of giving Frankie Hebert a boxing lesson in Crescent rink this evening. The Lowell boy is ready for him, according to reports and a stiff battle should ensue.

Abbott and Silesia come together for the second series game in North Chelmsford this evening. Bertie will probably be pitted against Rubo Greenhaigh. Abbott took the first encounter by a 9 to 2 score and appears to have the edge on the Silesians.

Orrie Allen has been chosen to work as umpire on bases during the Abbott-Silesia series. He started in at Grand-ville in the opening game Tuesday night and did a neat job, despite the fact that he had several embarrassing plays to call. Orrie worked for the City League on the South common the past summer.

North Cambridge has been officially declared champions of the Greater Boston Twilight League. Followers of the Lawrence Independents are indignant at the alleged unfair treatment accorded them in the final and deciding clash. They claim they were robbed of the honors by erratic umpiring.

With the O.M.L. Cadets, the Butlers, Indians, Ponies, St. Peter's Cadets, and other teams to be formed later, local pigskin fans should have their fill of the grid pastime this coming season.

Kenneth Simendinger, one of the greatest half backs ever to represent Holy Cross, has been secured by the Worcester officials to play for the Holy Cross team.

Bill Cronin, who played third base with the Abbots the past season, has returned to Boston college and is working out daily under Coach Cavannah.

contests for state legislative places on Tuesday was the defeat of Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, one of two women members of the house, for renomination. Mrs. Fitzgerald was one of the most popular women democrats in the state until she became a candidate for delegate to the democratic national convention in New York. Although elected a delegate in a contest where the sentiment was shown to be strong for the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Mrs. Fitzgerald voted throughout that convention William G. McAdoo, turning a deaf ear to all importunities from Smith supporters in her own state. At that time Mrs. Fitzgerald declared that she would not be renominated for the house. They made good their declarations Tuesday when finished fourth in the contest in her district.

Miss M. Sylvia Donaldson of Boston, the other woman member of the Massachusetts house, was renominated by the republicans in her district.

WEBB PRAISES MELLO

Famous Trainer Says Lowell Boy Rated Championship in Letter to The Sun

Spike Webb, famous trainer, who had charge of the U.S. Olympic boxing team in the recent games at Paris, is back to work as physical instructor at the U.S. Naval academy, Annapolis, Maryland, according to a letter to Raymond E. Brown, who covered the Olympic games for The Sun.

In his letter Mr. Webb expresses his gratitude to The Sun man for his laudatory references to him in the various articles published during his stay in Paris, saying that he treasured the clippings sent him by Al Mello. Mr. Webb also pays tribute to Mello and his manager, John Souza. He says he will always pleasantly recall his association with the Lowell trio during the Paris games.

Trainer Webb, like the other Americans who witnessed the boxing, expressed his regret at the unjust decision, which deprived Mello of the world's title in the welterweight class. His letter, in part, follows:

"Well, how are my good old Lowell friends? I suppose you, Souza and Mello, have had many good times discussing the activities in Paris. It sure was some time, a visit I shall never forget."

"I was pleased to read about the great reception given to Mello upon his return to Lowell. He certainly did deserve what your paper well termed a 'tribute' from city and state. It is ever a fellow won a title and didn't get it, it was Mello. He surely rated the championship. No better, or more loyal had ever drawn on a glove than Al Mello. My one wish is that he will go to the very highest peak if he elects to follow up the boxing game."

"Your articles on the boxing activities 'over there' were most accurate and interesting, and those complimentary references to yours truly, were 'all wool and a yard wide.' I appreciate them greatly."

"I am now back on the job at the academy, turning out knuckle bangers for Uncle Sam."

"Best regards to John, Al and yourself."

Always your friend,
SPIKE WEBB.

DR. ARIZAGA TO LEAD ECUADOREAN REBELS

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Sept. 11.—The Ecuadorean rebels have proclaimed as their leader Dr. Rafael Maria Arizaga, acting minister to Brazil, who is said to be present in Panama.

Dr. Arizaga was minister to the United States during President Taft's administration and represented Ecuador at the Pan-American conference in Santiago, Chile, last year. A dispatch yesterday said troops had been despatched from Quito to the northern part of Ecuador to suppress a revolutionary movement.

HE'S REAL STAR AT 12 YEARS OF AGE

A mere slip of a kid, Robert Bryan of Chatham, 12 years of age, proved the big thriller in the Tennessee state tennis championship this year. The tiny tot was runner up in the men's public tournament. Young Bryan and his senior partner met only after the most grueling contest.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

Questions

1. There are runners on second and third, one out and two strikes on the batter. The infield is playing in for a bunt. The batsman hits the next ball directly in front of the plate but in dash to first kicks the ball with his foot. The ball goes through the second baseman, who is playing in, both runners score and the batsman reaches

ball but rules every one safe. This play decided the game. Did the umpire rule properly?—J. A.

2. Score stands 5 to 4 in favor of visiting team, when home club goes to bat for the last half of the ninth.

Pitcher who started the game puts runners on first and second. It is removed from game. First man to face relief pitcher singles, scoring both runs and winning the game. Who is charged with the defeat, the twirler who started the game or the relief pitcher who worked against only one man?—G. L. P.

3. Batter hits grounder toward right field. Second baseman, seeing he

his glove at it in disgust. A claims throwing glove at batted ball entitles batsman to three bases. Is says the glove must come into contact with the ball to have player penalized for his act. Who is right?—St. S.

Answers

1. Batter who kicked ball that he had hit in front of plate should have been called out by umpire for being hit by his own batted ball. Runners who scored should have been sent back to second and third, their original bases. Umpire erred in his ruling.

2. Pitcher who started game and

is charged with the defeat.

3. Thrown glove must actually come into contact with batted ball for three-base penalty to be inflicted.

B is correct in his interpretation of the rule.

STRIKERS NOT KILLED ARE IN HIDING, IN HOSPITALS OR IN JAIL

Many Dead, Many Injured, Officers Under Orders to Shoot Strikers, Distracted Widows Going From Jails to Hospitals and Morgues in Search of Mining Strikers

LOWELL, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Twenty persons dead, many injured lying in hospitals, and a number of strikers under orders to shoot strikers who approached, distracted widows in search of their husbands, and a number of strikers in hiding, in hospitals or in jail, were the grim picture of the aftermath of a clash between cane strikers and police Tuesday at Haney, Iowa.

Dead included 15 Filipinos and policemen. The list was increased when another Filipino died last night. The situation seemed under control yesterday while the funerals of many of the victims were being held and today only a few Filipinos could be seen in the vicinity of the outbreak. They were not recognized as strikers, however, as all strikers who were not killed in the fighting Tuesday were in hiding, in hospitals or in jail.

The outbreak was said to be the most terrific industrial clash in the history of the territory.

SCUSSES SOCIALISM A. F. OF L. JOINS IN FIGHT AGAINST WAGE CUTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor, have sent telegrams to the United Textile Workers of America, in convention here, pledging the federation's support in the textile union's fight against any attempts to cut wages. Delegates to the Textile Workers' convention yesterday gave the general executive board of the union full power to frame such measures as will halt the movement to reduce wages.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the union, said that the Manville-Jencks company reduced wages 10 per cent at the Closs mill, Woonsocket, R. I., early last month, and that wages had been reduced at the Seaford mill. Similar wage cuts were also planned, he said, at the Nourse mill as well as in the company's North Carolina mills. From 8,000 to 10,000 workers employed in the eight mills owned by the company would be affected, he said.

The question of amalgamation of the United Textile Workers with the Independent Textile Union is not affiliated with the A. F. of L. is to be considered today.

BRITISH READY TO AID LITTLE ENTENTE

GENEVA, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The representatives of the little entente have been informed that Great Britain will not only stand ready to extend economic penalties against any aggressor states but will also subscribe to a general agreement to afford assistance to maintain world peace. It was stated on good authority here today.

This assurance has created a favorable impression among the smaller European states and has strengthened the idea already prevalent in League of Nations quarters that England and France are closer than some people think to a settlement of the problem of security which the French insist must accompany any acceptance of compulsory arbitration.

A difficulty arises in working out the formula for, apparently, Great Britain will hesitate to commit herself in advance to throwing the weight of the British navy into any conflict, contenting herself with the bankers' provisions outlined in Article 16 of the covenant of the league, which Prime Minister MacDonald has characterized as stronger than most people imagine.

Help from the British army is now excluded from the tentative plans because Great Britain will not stand ready to force any army conscription system upon Great Britain.

APPROVE "STORE DOOR DELIVERY" PLAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Five hundred members of the Atlantic States Shippers' Advisory board, in conference today, approved adoption of the "store door delivery" plan, under which railroad freight cars would be loaded with merchandise from shippers' plants to car-loading points. It is stipulated that although the shipper shall bear the expense of this trucking service, the railroad shall assume full responsibility for shipments to and from the store door of the shipper.

The plans, as proposed by the executive committee of the advisory board—a regional organization of manufacturers and railroad chiefs designed to handle the traffic problem of the Atlantic seaboard—will be put into operation on all large Atlantic seaboard lines.

NEW ENGLAND CROP SERVICE BULLETIN

WAKEFIELD, Mass., Sept. 11.—August conditions for potatoes were more favorable than in July in four New England states, changed but little in Rhode Island and declined slightly in New Hampshire, according to a bulletin issued today by the New England crop reporting service of the United States department of agriculture, which estimated 41,371,000 bushels, compared with 39,488,000 bushels indicated 70 per cent of the New England total, on Aug. 1.

Maine promises 10,188,000 bushels, compared with 10,526,000, the five year average. Quality is likely to be better and further increase in production seems probable. Arostook county crop promises good yields of excellent quality.

MISS JACOBS WINS WAY TO FINAL ROUND

$1,000,000 OFFER FOR SHOE FACTORY

ROCKLAND, Sept. 11.—The Louis Marks Shoe company of Philadelphia, operating a chain of retail shoe stores in the principal cities of the United States, today made a bona fide offer, said to be in excess of $1,000,000 for the factory, trade mark and good will of the Emerson Shoe company. The directors and stockholders protective committee meet Friday to consider the offer.

CARTED OFF 750 POUND SAFE

BROCKTON, Sept. 11.—Some time during the night thieves jimmied the door of the Philip Brady Coal Company office, drove a truck up to the door, loaded a 750 pound safe on it and drove away. The safe, containing less than $100 in money but the firm's books and valuable papers are gone. Previous attempts had been made upon the safe.

SEEK SATURDAY MORNING WORK

HAVERHILL, Sept. 11.—Dozens of applications for Saturday morning work from shoe manufacturers were poured into the Shoe Workers' Protective Union today. The increased demand for Saturday overtime privileges indicates continued improvement in the volume of business. All branches of production show a strong tendency to become more active and the outlook for fall business is generally bright.

TEN KILLED IN RIOT

Police Officers Suspended

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—The Des Moines city council today adopted a resolution calling for the suspension of Police Captain William Davies and Patrolmen Dickey and Dunagan, pending an investigation by the civil service commission of charges by the executive committee of the national conference of Catholic charities that the two policemen conspired with the Ku Klux Klan in an anti-Catholic propaganda plot.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Stock prices pointed upward at the opening of today's stock market. Pittsburgh, and West Virginia common opened a point higher and the preferred sold above its call price at 105 1/2. United States Steel common improved fractionally on buying inspired by the increase in unfilled tonnage. Bear traders uncovered another weak spot in National Exchange preferred which broke three points to a new low for the year at 67.

The undertone continued firm through the early trading despite a renewal of selling pressure against the St. Paul issues, the preferred dropping a point and the common one-half. American Chemical was pushed up two points and Maxwell A. Union Bag & Paper and Brooklyn Union Gas advanced 1 to 1 1/2 points. Oils gave a good demonstration of group strength. American Tobacco fell back two points and Hartman corporation and Loose-Wiles lost 1 and 1 1/2 respectively. Foreign exchanges opened firm and then eased.

Weakness of the St. Paul issues eventually extended to the other grangers. Great Northern preferred dropping two points and Northern Pacific common one-half. Davidson Chemical was pushed up two points and Maxwell A. Union Bag & Paper and Brooklyn Union Gas advanced 1 to 1 1/2 points. Oils gave a good demonstration of group strength. American Tobacco fell back two points and Hartman corporation and Loose-Wiles lost 1 and 1 1/2 respectively. Foreign exchanges opened firm and then eased.

Disappointing earnings were responsible for some selling of Great Northern preferred, which touched 60 1/2, a loss of 3/4. Northern Pacific also yielded 2 1/2 in all and Northwest 1 1/2. Eaton axle and Spring sold at 9 1/2, a new low on the day. The quarterly dividend. Speculation was dull in mid-afternoon and there were few changes of consequences elsewhere outside of gains of 3 to 4 1/2 in Union Pacific, International Telephone & Telegraph and General Baking.

It was growing very dark by this time and the first thing Jack knew he was out of sight of camp. He turned to go back and discovered that on all sides of him there seemed to be nothing but big trees. Of course the darkness let shadows fall that fooled him. He believed he was lost.

Jack had named his little pet monkey "Flop," because he thought that name and his dog's name went funny together. Flop and Flop. Or Flop Flop, as the little adventurer often referred to them. Well, Flop was a bit scared in the darkness of the jungle, too, and he hopped up on Jack's shoulder.

Flop was used to being with a lot of other monkeys so when he was away from them it is no wonder he was frightened. "Well, what are we going to do now?" asked Jack. The little monkey just squeaked in reply. Then Jack decided to light a match to see if that would attract the other explorers. (Continued.)

PRES. COOLIDGE SILENT ON PRIMARY RESULTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Tabulations of the various state primary elections held this week were carried to the White House today but President Coolidge maintained his silence on the results.

Several republican leaders, however, including Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee, and C. D. Case, secretary to the president, have voiced considerable enthusiasm over the results.

Mr. Coolidge, although he congratulated George F. Emery, chairman of the republican state committee in Maine, on the election in that state on Monday, has made no comment at any time on any of the inter-party fights settled in the primaries.

GOV. GEN. WOOD READY TO TESTIFY

SHERIFF'S SALE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex ss. Lowell, Sept. 2, 1924.

By virtue of an execution issued from the District Court of Lowell, dated August 28th, 1924, upon a judgment recovered before said Court on the 22nd day of August, 1924, in the suit of Stanley Urbanski against Martin Saja, alias Martin Saja, of Chelmsford, I have this day taken and taken, and shall sell at Public Auction, for cash to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the fourth day of October, 1924, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at my office, Room 220 Hildreth Bldg., in said Lowell, all the right, title and interest which the said Martin Saja, alias, as aforesaid, had, not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution on this day, when the same was seized and taken by me, in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:

Certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in the town of Chelmsford, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the easterly line of the highway leading to North Chelmsford at the intersection of the boundary line between land of C. A. Randlett and the land herein described; thence running thence, running southerly along said Randlett land and land of owners unknown about forty-eight (48) feet to the highway leading from Lowell to Westford; thence running in a northerly westerly direction along said highway and said road to North Chelmsford to the point of beginning. Being all and the entire premises conveyed to the said Martin Saja by deed of Stanley Duenbaba dated May 10, 1915, and recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 633, Page 224.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, will celebrate its anniversary on Oct. 8 and plans for the observance were discussed at a meeting of the court last evening in Grafton Hall.

The observance will be in form of a smoker, according to Secretary Thos. F. Kelley's report last evening, and it is planned to have as guests members of courts from nearby cities and surrounding state officers. The committee in charge of arrangements follows: C. Mooney, William Courser, John McCollough, John F. Hendricks, Ernest Brooks, Ralph Courser, John W. Sharkey and Patrick P. Mahoney.

Following the secretary's report, a general discussion followed and interesting talks on the order were given by John Barrett, Thomas C. Mooney and Thomas Murphy.

Lowell lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, is to be honored with a visit from Supreme Dictator William A. Marable on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 26, according to advices received by the lodge at its regular meeting last evening.

To suitably honor the visitor, the lodge voted to hold a large class reunion on the day of his visit and a committee was appointed to take charge of the affair. The committee will meet every Wednesday evening in Odd Fellows building during the drive

Money Will Be Distributed Among Lowell Banks—Special Meeting

The $100,000 bequest of the late Freeman B. Shedd for the further improvement of Shedd playground, was accepted by the city council last evening at a special meeting called for this purpose. The council also voted that the money when received is to be equally distributed among the city's banks under the direction of the city treasurer.

A communication was received from the First National bank of Boston, fiscal agents for the city, requesting further information concerning the $100,000 emergency sewer loan order recently passed by the city. The wording of the order, according to this communication, is not sufficiently clear and it also stated that it might be necessary to request the city to have all information requested sent to the fiscal agents as quickly as possible so that the loan will be made without any further delay.

The meeting was called to order at 7 p. m. with Councilors, Chas. W. Huntington, Lambert and McPadden absent. Arthur H. Brown of the Organized Reserves was introduced by President Gallagher and requested the council to sign up for Defense Day and review the parade Friday evening from city hall steps. Members of the council favored the request and will review the parade Friday evening.

President Gallagher read and the council unanimously approved the following resolution in connection with the Shedd bequest:

RESOLUTION.

Accepting the bequest of $100,000 under the will of Freeman B. Shedd, late of Lowell, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Lowell, as follows:

That the bequest of $100,000, under the will of Freeman B. Shedd, late of Lowell, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, under item "C" of said will, which reads as follows, to wit:

"(C) To the City of Lowell, one hundred thousand dollars, to be used for the development of the Shedd playground, so-called, in said Lowell, according to the plans now in existence drawn by Ernest W. Bowditch, the same to be expended under the supervision of the said Bowditch for his successor or successors 'in business,' he or they being designated as such by the court and upon the conditions and terms herein named.

The mayor and city treasurer were then authorized by the council to sign a release from liability for the trustees of the Shedd estate.

After paying tribute to the memory of the man who gave Shedd park to the city and whose bequest of $100,000 for the development of the Shedd playground had just been thankfully received by the city, Councilor John W. Daly moved that when the money of the bequest is received, it be equally deposited in the Lowell banks under the direction of the city treasurer.

Councilor Stearns advocated the appointment of a commission of three or more men acquainted with financial matters to invest the money bequeathed to the city so that at no time would it lose its individuality, as he said he believed had been the fate of the Thomas Nesmith fund for several years. The president and Councilor Daly both expressed the belief that such action should come after the money is received by the city and the council agreed.

The motion of Councilor Daly was seconded by Councilor Casagrove and unanimously accepted.

President Gallagher read a communication from the First National bank of Boston, fiscal agents of the city, which requested further information concerning the $100,000 emergency sewer loan order, as the order does not state clearly the emergency. Several legal questions were raised bearing on the wording of the loan order and its preamble in which the emergency was outlined.

Councilor McPadden, who came into the chamber while the matter was under discussion, said that Boston attorneys of the fiscal agents evidently were not aware of the autenticity of the unemployment situation in this city and did not know that this was the emergency which prompted the passage of the loan order. The passage of the order and securing of the loan was being delayed too long, he said, and moved that the chairman of the public service board communicate with the fiscal agents and outline to them their part in the matter, and that the city solicitor answer regarding the legal phases. His motion was passed.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p. m.

LOCAL LIONS ENTERTAIN

First of Series of Inter-City Meetings Held in Liberty Hall of the Auditorium

Lions of Lowell last night roared a greeting to visiting brothers from several Merrimack valley cities and towns and a delegation from Boston at the first of a series of inter-city meetings to be held this winter.

The get-together was held in Liberty hall, with about 150 members of the organization present to greet Melvin Jones of Chicago, secretary-general of the International Association of Lions, District Governor Dr. Charles W. Brunninghaus of Worcester, and visiting King Lions and their clubs. Clubs represented were those of Boston, Medford, Lowell, Lynn, Haverhill and Nashua and Manchester, N. H.

Dinner was served promptly at 6:30 o'clock and the Lowell Lions under the magnetic and forceful leadership of Horatio B. Leggat gave harmonious testimony to the allegation that they would rather sing than eat. Each course was punctuated and enhanced by tunes from the song book and good fellowship reigned supreme.

In fact good fellowship was the keynote of the meeting, rounded by each speaker and echoed by the gathering. Dr. G. Forrest Martin, king lion of the Lowell club, was the presiding officer and presented the speakers. He introduced Dr. George S. Foster, king lion of the Manchester club; King Lion Walter F. Hill of Lynn; King Lion Harold D. Giddings of Boston; King Lion Alvin A. Lucier of Nashua; District Gov. Brunninghaus, Secretary-General Jones and Organizer George Wood. With the exception of Mr. Jones, who was the principal speaker, all addresses were distinctly informal and brief and consisted mainly of the extension of greetings and cordial invitations to Lowell Lions to visit the out-of-town clubs represented.

Melvin Jones was greeted with a roar that tinkled the glasses on the tables. He spoke principally of the ideals of Lionsism and touched upon the symbols of courage, strength, fidelity and loyalty which are paramount in the organization's code of ethics. He urged extensions of the order wherever and whenever possible, but pleaded for clubs of real men rather than of numerical strength. He spoke of the hundreds of privileges in which clubs in the United States and Canada are engaged and pointed out that last year more than 600 clubs actively took up naturalization work and conducted classes of instruction with splendid success.

Last night's meeting was but the forerunner of similar ones planned for the winter months, in which clubs in valley cities will unite to promote the general welfare of the organization.

FAIR WEATHER FOR WILLS-FIRPO FIGHT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—The wooden seats at Boyl's Thirty Acres scene of tonight's heavyweight bout between Firpo and Wills received their first real "baking" in a week today. Although the temperature was 46 at 7:15 a. m., the sun came out this forenoon and the weather bureau said the cold wave would be over before night, although topicals would probably be in order. The skies were cloudless.

PEACE SESSION IS IMPOSSIBLE

No Conference as Long as Honduran Rebels Continue To Advance on San Pedro

American Charge d'Affaires Warns General Ferrera, Rebel Leader.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Advice from Honduras says the American charge d'affaires, Stokely W. Morgan, has informed the rebel leader, General Ferrera, that the holding of a peace conference is impossible as long as the rebels continue to advance on the city of San Pedro in Sula. The rebels do not seem disposed to an immediate convention based upon loyal execution of the Amapiata peace treaty, as they professed. Mr. Morgan is said to have added:

The American envoy also said he had received word from Washington to the effect that, if no settlement was reached between the warring factions in Honduras, the American government would feel compelled not to recognize any rebel government set up by General Ferrera or to extend it any sympathy or moral support. In conclusion he appealed to General Ferrera to come to terms and negotiate a permanent peace.

Despatches emanating from rebel sources deny that the insurgents have been defeated in three battles, as claimed in a Honduran government message from Tegucigalpa. The rebels say the so-called battles were nothing but skirmishes between reconnoitering parties.

THE PHOEBE E. JOHNSON ESTATE AT JOHNSON'S CORNER, TYNGSBORO, MASS. CONSISTING OF A TWO-STORY FRAME DWELLING, 10, 12 AND 14 WARD STREET, LOWELL, MASS. IS HEREBY PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDER AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION, ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13TH, 1924, AT THREE O'CLOCK P. M.

The house has seven rooms and store, is of two stories, has large open piazza on front and separate entrance on the side to the store and a deep well-lighted cellar. The lot has an extensive frontage on both Elm and River roads, and a total area of over four acres. With this large lot area and the fact that the property is situated within a step of the Merrimack River and within a short drive of Mountain Brook and Lakeview Park, gives it an increased value as a development possibility. In its present state, it could well be conducted as a poultry farm, as it is ideally situated, having a ready market from both Lowell and Nashua, being half way between these two cities and on the main travelled highway. For the man looking to buy a small estate with a few acres of land, together with the chance to conduct a variety store, this sale should especially appeal. The building requires a small outlay to finish the interior, the owner being called out of town before the building was finally completed. On the land is a one-story camp included in this sale. The entire property is within one mile of the Tyngsborough bridge and the State highway.

TERMS: $500 cash must be deposited or secured with the auctioneers just as soon as property is struck off. Other terms and conditions at time of sale.

HOLY NAME CONVENTION

Societies in Local Catholic Churches Will Send Delegates to Washington

Holy Name societies in the various Catholic parishes of Lowell are making arrangements to send delegates to the big Holy Name convention in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 18-21. While only three of the parishes, the Sacred Heart, St. Michael's and St. Margaret's, have decided definitely to be represented, it is expected that others will declare themselves soon. The convention is preparing to handle 100,000 delegates from all parts of the country. The Lowell party will leave Sept. 17, joining the Day State delegation in Boston.

TO MAKE WAR MORE DEADLY

TNT, Picric Acid and Other High Explosives To Be Shot With Greater Speed

Invention of New Booster Detonator Described Before Experts at Ithaca

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 11.—TNT, picric acid and other high explosives, it is asserted, will be shot off with greater speed and make war more deadly as the result of the invention of a new booster detonator of wide application in both peace and war, described today before the division of industrial and engineering chemistry of the American Chemical society by the inventor, Bennett Grotto of Tannum, Pa. The invention, said by officials of the National Research council, to be entirely new, is called an improvement over all war-time devices of this kind, and chemists anticipate that it will be used in the record order of 100,000,000 pounds of explosives recently placed by the government for peace purposes.

The first of the "outside" or ward sessions will be held Sept. 22 and the place and time will be announced later. Beginning Sept. 15 and continuing to Oct. 15, persons desiring to register may do so at the office of the election commission. The hours of registration at the office are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

REGISTRATION SESSIONS

Election Commission Chairman Announces Registration Session in All Wards

Registration session for persons desiring to vote in the November national and state elections and the city primaries will be held in all the wards according to an announcement made today by Chairman Hugh C. McKenney.

It has been the custom of the commission in years past to conduct registration sessions in some of the wards, but this is the first year that an attempt will be made to conduct sessions in each of the wards.

FOOTBALL COACH HAS BEEN RECOMMENDED

One of the best known football men in the east, an All-American line man for two years while in college and at present living in Boston, has been recommended to the Lowell school committee by high school officials for appointment as assistant coach of football at the local school this season. It is expected that the committee will take favorable action on the recommendation this week and negotiations for securing the coach will be completed.

The man's name cannot be used at this time, but school officials believe he will be a most valuable acquisition and of great assistance to Coach Likton in building up a representative eleven. Following his college career the man in question served as a college coach for two years and also played professional football with one of the leading teams in the country for three or four seasons.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Several Violators of Motor Vehicle Laws Arraigned Today—Other Cases

David W. Fishman of Lawrence, was fined $10 for operating an automobile with substitute number plates, and $10 for driving an unregistered car, in district court this morning. He was arrested about a week ago by Patrolman Joseph Connors at Bridge and First streets.

Joseph Herlihy, a naval officer attached to the Charlestown navy yard, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle at an unreasonable rate of speed, and the case was placed on file. A Patrolman charged with the same offense, was also found guilty and the case placed on file.

A fine of $10 was imposed on Joseph Lewis for driving an automobile without a certificate of registration in his possession. A charge of driving an unregistered machine was filed.

Dean W. Maeker paid a fine of 10 for operating without a license.

John Thomas was sentenced to 10 days in the house of correction for operating an automobile after his license had been suspended.

Fred W. Wilder of Fitchburg, operating a car with substitute number plates, was continued for one week.

Frank Wolick, assault and battery on his wife, was given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction. As a result of the assault, the wife was confined to St. John's hospital for a week.

Anthony Clement, drunkenness, was sentenced to the state farm.

Peter J. Blanchard, drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction.

GLACIER SWEEPS DOWN MOUNTAIN

Journey of Glacier Can Be Seen Twenty Miles Away—Accompanied by Roar

YREKA, Cal., Sept. 11.—The Mount Shasta glacier, dislodged by the long continued drought on the north side of the mountain, is moving down the slope at a rate of five miles an hour, snapping off big trees in its path and thrusting immense boulders before it. The movement began a short time after dawn and at noon the huge mass of ice was well within the timber line. Huge clouds of vapor are arising as the moraines of the glacier are being broken up by its movement and these clouds are forming one big cloud over the head of the moving mass.
